NEW STUFF IS COMING!

What's new at the Ontario Science Centre? Plenty! And it'll all be in the Great Hall July 1—Labour Day where you can have the first look, the first chance to try it out, and where you can actually see our New Stuff being put together.

Watch the whale skeleton grow. Our 18 m (60 ft) fin whale skeleton will be assembled in all its glory in the Great Hall. If you've never been close to a whale before, now is your chance to get the inside truth about them. Pan for real gold nuggets, watch a snowstorm in the middle of summer, make your own stream and see how it erodes the land. Learn about the earth we live on. By the way, you get to keep any gold you find.

Take the fit-tests. Find out whether you're off-balance (or on), how fast you can react, how much fat you're carrying around, whether you're fitter or fatter than you think you are.

Make friends with a rock. Rocks are beautiful, strange, useful, as you'll see when you visit our Rock Shop. It will include rare minerals, lapidary (mineral cutting and polishing) displays, art made from rocks, and much more.

Learn to be a sculptor. Steve Auldhead makes whale sculptures, and every day he'll teach children to sculpt with clay and wax.

Come and see, use, play with all the New Stuff. It's in the Great Hall, starting July 1.

Preserving food is an art, a science, and also a whole lot of fun. Once it was the domain of women and the well-being of the whole family depended on their knowledge and skill. Knowing how to preserve the goodness of summer is still something to be proud of, and you can do it using solar power.

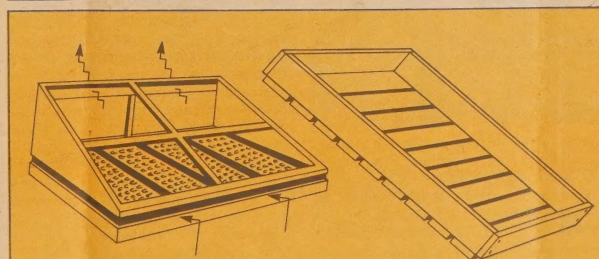

Food spoils because of enzymes in the food itself, or because of the moulds, yeasts and bacteria in the soil, water and air around us. Enzymes are present in all food to control growth and ripening, but they can also cause decay. The dry spores of mould alight on food and grow there. Some moulds are harmless, but others produce substances called mycotoxins, harmful to humans. Yeasts cause fermentation—fine if you're making beer, but unpleasant in most fruits and garden vegetables. Bacteria love the warmth and moisture provided by food and they can produce toxins which can kill you.

Drying removes the moisture the spoilors need. Easiest to dry are apples, peaches, pears, plums and cherries... and shredded vegetables and herbs, which can be used in soup. Try your hand at drying apples first.

You will need proper drying trays to fit

A Solar dryer

Drying tray

For small-scale drying outdoors with plenty of sunshine but higher humidity than is desirable for drying in direct sun, you can put together a dryer that looks, and acts, much as a cold-frame does (see sketch).

your solar dryer. These should also be made of wood, about 5 cm deep, and with bottoms made of wood slats covered with cheese-cloth. Don't use metal screening because it may discolour the food; or fibreglass, which can distribute glass lint in your food; or plastic, which could melt.

Peel your apples, core them, and slice very thinly. If you want to hold the light colour, coat the slices with a solution of ascorbic acid (three teaspoons per cup of water) to prevent discolouration. Steam the slices in a vegetable steamer for five minutes to kill any spoilors on the surface. Arrange the slices in a thin layer on your drying trays, then put the trays in your solar dryer. If they aren't dry by the end of a warm sunny day, finish them in the oven. To test for dryness, take a handful out, cool and cut a few slices. If no water comes out when you squeeze them, if they are tough, leathery and pliable, the apples should be dry enough. As a final safety measure, pasteurize the apples by putting them in a 175°F oven for 15 minutes. Cool the apples in a clean place, then package them in plastic bags for storage.

If you don't have enough sunlight or if you live in an area of high humidity, you can dry apples in your oven. Preheat to 140° and dry at that temperature. Use only the lower heating element and if you have an electric oven, leave the door open slightly to let moisture escape. The apples must be placed in the oven on the drying trays.

Each food has its own requirements for drying. If you want to practice drying in a big way, read all you can before you start. A good book about all kinds of food preservation is Putting Food By, Ruth Herzberg, Beatrice Vaughn, Janet Green, Toronto, Bantam Books, 1976.

ANYBODY HERE SPEAK DOLPHIN?

The bottlenosed dolphin has a bigger brain than any of us. His brain weighs about 1600 gm, ours about 1300 gm. Scientists (human) have been wondering why dolphins have such big brains when the ocean is mostly full of dummies—jellyfish, sponges and the like. Dolphins need to analyze their complex sonar signals for the perception of depth, direction, shape and even the internal structure of objects. But is the dolphin also capable of complex communications? Could he even communicate with man in some language common to both?

Researchers at the University of Hawaii's Marine Mammal Research Laboratory have been conducting a language training program with two dolphins. They have shown, for the first time, that dolphins can understand the abstract meaning of words, and can respond when the words are used in new combinations.

The dolphins learned to associate objects and actions with acoustic "words" generated under water by a computer, and also with a language of arm-gestures. One dolphin has learned 25 arm-gesture words, and can even name objects with mimicked acoustic words.

At first, an object such as a hoop or ball was placed on the water and a sound or gesture was given to identify it. The dolphin learned to touch the proper object with his nose when the correct "word" was used. The words were then put together in variable commands, such as "fetch-left-pipe", in which the dolphin must choose between two pipes and retrieve the left one. After one dolphin had learned to swim through a hoop in response to the "hoop-through" command, a researcher gave him a totally new command: "person-through". The person in the tank with the dolphin found himself being pushed through the hoop, showing that the dolphin understood the meaning of the word "through", used under different circumstances.

So the next time you talk to a dolphin, be careful what you say.

TAKE A SCIENCE HOLIDAY

So you're looking for something different on your vacation, and you're interested in science. Why not combine the two? Here are a few suggestions.

The Smithsonian Institution runs study tours nearly everywhere in the world, under the guidance of museum curators or visiting scholars. Write to National Associates, A&I 1277, Smithsonian Institution, Washington D.C. 20560. Telephone (202) 381-5635.

The Canadian Nature Federation Conference will be held in Winnipeg, August 24-31. It includes seminars and plenty of field trips, with extended trips to Churchill and on Lake Winnipeg. There are also trips and programs for young people. For complete information, fees, schedules, write to the Canadian Nature Federation, 75 Albert Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1P 6G1.

Learn about photography and printmaking! The Visual Studies Workshop in Rochester, New York offers a total of 40 seminars, covering many of the old printmaking processes, plus offset lithography and book production. While in Rochester, you can also visit the Kodak plant, and the photography museum at George Eastman House. The address of the Visual Studies Workshop is 31 Prince Street, Rochester, New York, 14607. Telephone (716) 442-8676.

Help a naturalist! Volunteers are needed for all sorts of survey and sampling projects in Ontario—counting birds, collecting plant specimens, mapping the distribution of animals. For a complete list of projects, send for the Volunteers Guide to Cooperative Naturalists Projects in Ontario, available for $1.00 from the Long Point Bird Observatory, Box 160, Port Rowan, Ontario NOE 1M0.

Dig into history! If you'd like to be a volunteer on an archeological dig, register with the Ontario Archeological Society. You might find yourself in Egypt, Peru or even at the CNE grounds, unearthing on old fort. To register, contact Dr. Martha Latta, 100 Northwood Dr., Willowdale, Ontario M2M 2K1.

INSULIN: GENES & MACHINES

"Dog feeling great; frisky; runs around room. Dog's spirits improved. Sat down to scratch flea from behind ear with hind foot." Dr. Frederick Banting thus recorded the symptoms of the first creature to receive insulin, the miraculous hormone that he and Charles Best discovered in 1920.

Insulin is still the only medical treatment for diabetes and the serum is still mass-produced the way Banting and Best developed it—from the pancreas tissue of slaughtered livestock. This non-human insulin could cause some negative side effects of diabetes such as blood and eye disorders.

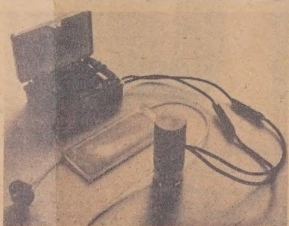

A recent development made in Canada may alleviate these problems. Only a few weeks ago Dr. Saran Narang of the National Research Council in Ottawa and his collaborator, Dr. Ray Wu of Cornell University, revealed to the world that they can synthetically make genes which are programmed to cause human bacteria to produce the hormone insulin.

Dr. Narang artificially builds highly complex genes which are then transplanted into a bacterium called E. coli (E. coli found in all human digestive tracts). The artificial gene is about 280 base units or nucleotides in length and it is programmed with the genetic sequence that will be used by the bacteria to produce insulin.

While others have tried to obtain genes by isolating them from living cells, Dr. Narang's method is unique, as he chooses to build a gene synthetically from basic components, thus having complete control over its construction. Dr. Narang had to compile the secret formula for the exact nucleotide sequence needed for insulin. That genetic sequence is translated by the cell into proteins. Some proteins are enzymes—organic catalysts that affect chemical reactions; others, like insulin, are hormones; still others are regulators that start and stop the sequence of the information. Once this gene is spliced into the bacteria, its information is cloned millions of times as the bacteria grow and multiply.

Perhaps this new human insulin will be used in the device being developed by researchers at the Hospital For Sick Children in Toronto. This electronic device is programmed to pump insulin into the body at different times of the day, removing the need for daily injections. The compact apparatus is carried in a pouch around the waist. It consists of a pump the size of a spool of thread, an electronic panel of switches that controls the pump's programming, a pouch of insulin, and a few metres of fine tubing that feeds directly into the bloodstream.

Meanwhile researchers at the Connaught Laboratories in Toronto are working on an artificial endocrine pancreas known as the "insulinstat". With the diameter of a quarter and the mass of four stacked quarters, this little device is inserted into the diabetic's pancreas. It is a chamber containing a hollow fibre. Islets of Langerhans, the parts of the pancreas that produce and release insulin, are placed in the chamber on one side of the fibre's membrane. Glucose flows freely through the semipermeable membrane to the Islets and, once produced, the insulin can pass back through the membrane from the Islets while antibodies and other rejection mechanisms are sequestered from the Islets because their large molecular structures aren't able to squeeze through the membrane. Although the insulinstat is being successfully tested on monkeys the major problem still to be overcome is blood clotting. The exciting feature of the insulinstat is that it incorporates the natural resources of the body rather than artificially replacing the entire organ, for tests show that diabetics often produce insulin, but not the right amount at the right time. The insulinstat turns on and off, responding to the physiological needs of the body, much like a pacemaker works for the heart. Within a few years it is probable that diabetics will lead more normal lives, for by then synthetic proinsulin genes will be mass-produced (already pharmaceutical companies are competing for the secret formula and setting up labs for production) and sophisticated medical devices will be available. Today's genetic and medical engineers, chemists, biologists and physiologists are carrying on the work that Drs. Banting and Best started in their ill-equipped little laboratory just a few blocks away from where children are now wearing the insulin pump pouch as they play.

STAO 80

Pay attention, science teachers. November 6, 7, and 8 are your days to find out what's new in science, what's new in teaching science, and to meet your fellow teachers at the STAO 80 Conference at the Skyline Hotel, Dixon Road, Toronto. Nine major themes will be highlighted, including science teaching for Francophone teachers; updates in chemistry, physics and biology; and alternative careers for teachers. Stephen Lewis will be the keynote speaker, and Second City Revue will provide entertainment. Be there, November 6, 7 and 8. For further information, contact John Fowles, Education Department, Ontario Science Centre.

Join the Oscott Club

OSCOTT is a club in which people aged 8-13 can explore, experience and enjoy the world of science. OSCOTT Club members take part in programs like Pinhole Cameras, Kitemaking, Survival in the Wilderness, Mask Making, Astronomy, Vegetable Printing, Ice Cream Making, Orienteering and Plant Propagation, all conducted at the Science Centre by Centre staff.

OSCOTT sessions will run for four Tuesdays or four Thursdays—two sessions in July and two in August. For more information contact Eithne Heffernan or Carolyn Clark at 429-4100, ext. 218, or write OSCOTT Club, Education Dept., Ontario Science Centre, 770 Don Mills Rd., Don Mills, Ontario M3C 1T3.

Science Notes

Pluto may really be two planets, not just one planet with a moon, according to calculations made by a scientist from M.I.T. The scientist was able to observe Pluto's moon, Charon, during a recent rare event when Charon momentarily blocked light from a distant star. He calculated Charon's size as about 1176 km in diameter, much bigger than previously thought. In fact, the size of Charon is about half the estimated size of Pluto, indicating that Pluto and Charon are actually binary planets, with the two bodies rotating around each other. If so, Pluto/Charon is the only binary planet in our solar system.

Researchers at the Orono Forest Station operated by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources have recently succeeded in rapidly producing spruce and pine seedlings by cuttings. In less than a year, hundreds of thousands of seedlings were produced, ready for planting out, using only a few workers. Black and white spruce and jack pine seedlings were first sown from seed in January, 1979. In late March, the resulting seedlings were ready to become parents themselves. Six women working for six days took 84,000 little cuttings from the 85,000 seedlings. These were placed in mini-greenhouses covered with plastic sheeting, kept humid, and slowly exposed to the larger greenhouse atmosphere. In mid-July, second cuttings were taken from these seedlings, and again from the original parent seedlings. By this time the total number of seedlings had multiplied to 420,280. Cuttings taken early developed larger and more fibrous root systems, and when they were eventually planted out in Northern Ontario, the survival rate was greater than 90%.

The foreskins from circumcised babies are now to be used to mass-produce interferon, a substance proven to be a potential anti-cancer and anti-viral agent. Interferon occurs naturally in tiny amounts in the human body, but can only be grown in the laboratory in a culture of human cell tissue. This has kept the cost of interferon far too high but now, following research at the Weizmann Institute, an Israeli company has been formed to mass-produce the substance. The cells from foreskin tissue will multiply rapidly in culture, so that only a small quantity of foreskins is needed to produce a large amount of interferon.

A process for making edible protein from a brew of straw, animal manure, and pulp-mill waste has just been invented by a chemical engineer from the University of Waterloo. The mixture is softened chemically, then left in a fermenting vat with tiny fungi cells that feed on the brew and multiply rapidly. Within hours, a massive amount of protein-rich fungi results, which can be filtered, dried and processed into flakes or powder with a 30%-50% protein content, plus starch, vitamins and fats. Although there are other ways of making edible protein, the raw material has previously been expensive oil or chemical products. In Canada, farmers could start a co-operative processing plant, recycle farm wastes and use the protein to feed livestock. Developing countries, which often have plenty of agricultural waste, could use the protein as a diet supplement.

Record-setting is having its ups and downs. At Duke University in North Carolina, three volunteers recently simulated a dive to a record 650 m below sea level. The test took 28 days, and was successful only because the volunteers were given a breathing mixture that included 10% nitrogen. The nitrogen is believed to act as a narcotic, countering the nervous system disorders caused by extreme pressure.

Meanwhile, up in the sky, Soviet cosmonaut Valery Ryumin has moved back into the Salyut 6 space station for a long stay. Only last summer he completed an in-space marathon of 175 days of weightlessness, with no ill effects. Scientists with the Russian space program feel the optimal length for a man's stay in space has not yet been reached, so Valery Ryumin may just try to break his own record.

Britain is having trouble keeping its orchids at home. Thieves, described as "horticulturalists or crazed botanists," have been digging up rare orchids, spirited them out of the country, and selling them in Europe for considerable amounts of money. The situation is so bad that only one lady's slipper remains in the British Isles. It survives because watchmen stand guard over it day and night for a month while it blooms. A similar 24-hour guard may have to be instituted for the ghost orchid. Last year the only known colony of ghost orchids produced five flowers. Two were stolen, and a third was trampled by collectors and sightseers. Unfortunately, orchids are difficult to grow from seed, and because they require fungus for nourishment, are also difficult to transplant from the wild.

Some hyperactive children react to food dyes as if they were toxic drugs, new research shows. Scientists from Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children and the University of Toronto tested 40 children in a controlled hospital environment, half of them diagnosed as hyperactive, half (the control group) with other behavior problems. All the children were placed on an additive-free diet. One group was given placebos, the other capsules containing 100-150 mg of a blend of nine food dyes, then the groups were reversed. The dose of food dye was higher than that used in previous testing, following data from the Food and Drug Administration showing that 75 mg is an average consumption per day (many children consume twice that). Both before and after taking the capsules, the children were tested for their attention span and memory. Among the 20 non-hyper children, the additive capsule produced no effect. However, 17 of the 20 hyper children made significantly more errors after taking the dye capsule.

NIGHT SKYWATCH

Face west and look up about two-thirds of the way between the horizon and overhead. You'll see the planets Jupiter, Mars and Saturn in the constellation of Leo the Lion. Jupiter is the brightest star-like object in the sky, after Venus.

Venus itself is getting lower in the western sky and during the second week of June it will be too close to the sun for it to be observed from Earth. But before disappearing from the evening sky, Venus will give you an excellent opportunity to find the innermost planet of the solar system, Mercury. It isn't easy to find this moon-size planet since it never gets very far from the sun in the sky. But on the first of June it passes just north of the much brighter planet Venus, and separated from it by a distance equal to about two-thirds of the apparent diameter of the moon. You can see Mercury with the naked eye, but binoculars will improve it.

Although Mercury's tiny size doesn't make it an impressive sight through a telescope, it does show phases like our moon and runs through them in a matter of a few weeks.

People with telescopes can watch an occultation of Saturn by the moon on June 19. An occultation occurs when the moon passes in front of a planet or star. (An eclipse is a special case of occultation.) This particular event will take place in the early afternoon. From Toronto, Saturn will disappear behind the eastern (dark) edge of the moon at 13:23:36 EDT and reappear on the western edge at 14:32:18 EDT.

SCIENCE IN THE CITY

Dirty water conference

Over a thousand scientists will come to Toronto June 23-27 to discuss water pollution. It's the tenth biennial conference of the International Association on Water Pollution Research, and will feature papers by internationally-known experts, plus seminars, workshops and field trips. For more information, contact Dr. P.H. Jones, Institute for Environmental Studies, University of Toronto, Toronto, Ontario M5S 1A4, telephone (416) 978-3486.

What next?

Find out at the first Global Conference on the Future, a meeting of minds to be held in Toronto, July 20-24. Speakers from all over the world will provide food for thought about the future, discussing such topics as world hunger, how to live more modestly in the future, long range spacegoals. Even Marshall McLuhan will be there. For more information, write to First Global Conference on the Future, Suite 1701, 1 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ontario M5E 1E6.

DAY TIME FILMS

Main Auditorium

Weekdays except Wednesdays at 2:00 and 3:30. Weekends and Holidays at 12:00, 1:30, 3:00, 4:30

BOTANIC MAN!

David Bellamy's series of films continues, tracing the evolution and adaptation of life on earth.

June 2-8

Land of Opportunity New Zealand and its unique botanic chain of life.

June 9-15

Latitude Zero Along the equator, in the Andes, vegetation changes drastically as one climbs higher into the mountains.

Auditorium School Programs

For school groups and the public

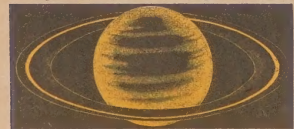

These programs are directly related to the Intermediate Science Guidelines. School groups must book ahead with our School Booking Service, 429-4100, ext. 252. The public is invited to attend whenever programs are presented. Students and public can attend free with admission to the Science Centre.

WE GATHER IN GOD'S NAME AND STATE THE OCCASION:

Minister: Peace be to you.

Response: And with you.

Reading: "Tomorrow, But Not Today", from Interrobang, Habel, pp 26-27

Minister: We are gathered here to celebrate our kinship under God in the face of experiences of loneliness and isolation. We set aside stagnation and emptiness and the sometime feeling that we exist in a hollow vacuum, not knowing how or why we get there.
Here today, with these others we claim the ability to change that.

Response: We claim it. We believe it. We are here to celebrate the most marvelous fact of the universe...that God loves us and has not consigned us to plow the furrow alone...
Alleluia!

HYMN: "Our Future Is Waiting Just Ahead"
by Rev. Lisa Berry, MCC tune: "Blowin' In The Wind"

Here is the path that the future runs down,
The fork in the road is at hand.

Decisions will shape the rest of my life.

I wish I could see 'round the turn.

Clouds are ahead and the pathway is rough,

But I'll go ahead just the same.

My future, I know, is waiting just ahead.

My future is waiting just ahead.

What will you do when the crossroad appears

With pathways obscured from your view?

Will you go on with a hope in your heart

Sufficient for battles to come?

Can you look up with a steadfast smile
And know that your head can't be bowed?
Your future, my friend, is waiting just ahead.
Your future is waiting just ahead.

If we can help one another somehow,
Supporting, assisting with love,
Then if we stumble we won't be alone.
All broken and bruised in the dark.
So hand in hand let us face the unknown,
And conquer each problem we find.
Our future, you see, is waiting just ahead.
Our future is waiting just ahead.

WE LIGHT THE CANDLES OF REMEMBRANCE AND RECALL THE LARGER COMMUNITY:

Minister: Light is the symbol of the Divine.

Response: Our God is our light and our salvation.

Minister: Light is the symbol of the Divine in men and in women.

Response: Through Jesus our spirit becomes a light to the world.

Minister: Therefore in the spirit of the ancient tradition that hallows and unites the people of all lands and all ages, do we now kindle the lights of festivity and of remembrance. Blessed are You, O God, our God, Ruler of the Universe, who has sanctified us by your light and commanded us to kindle the lights. May our God bless us with joy. May our God bless us with holiness. May our God bless us with peace.

Response: God, we stand inside your people,
and know a wholeness that can benefit it.
Long ago we learned that we must regard the lilies of the field, putting our trust in you. Pressured to hide our identities and gifts, we have served you with an unyielding, fierce love in the midst of the very people who condemned us. Taught that we must feel self-loathing, nevertheless we learned love and community, and how to look into your face and laugh with grateful joy, God.
Victims of a long and continuing torture, we asserted a stubborn faith in the justice of your sovereignty. Negativism was drummed into us as thoroughly as if we were sheet metal. We learned what it is to be hated. Yet, despite the rejection, we insisted on attesting to the fullness and beauty of all human creation, including ours, in your image. We are alive and well and standing in the midst of your very own people. Blessed are you, O God, who both begat and bore us. We give you thanks and praise through Jesus, our Christ, who is kin to us and yet our Lord, now and forever.

THE PEACE: (Greet one another with a touch, an embrace, a handshake or a kiss. A time for the giving and accepting of light.)

HYMN: "Arise, Your Light Has Come"
by Ruth Duck, copyright 1974
tune: St. Thomas, "I Love Thy Kingdom"

Arise, your light has come!
The Spirit's call obey;
Show forth the glory of your God
Which shines on you today.

Arise, your light has come!
Fling wide the prison door;
Proclaim the captive's liberty;
Good tidings to the poor.

Arise, your light has come!
All you in sorrow born,
Bind up the broken-hearted ones,
And comfort those who mourn.

Arise, O faint of heart!
The mountains burst with song!
Rise up like eagles on the wing;
God's pow'r will make us strong.

THE HISTORY OF A PEOPLE REMEMBERED:

Minister: Peace be with you.
Response: And with you.

Reading: "Two Lonely People", from Act One by Moss Hart

Minister: Let us also remember our mothers,

Response: A wandering Aramean was my mother.
In Egypt she bore slaves,
Then she called to the God of our mothers.
Sarah, Hagar, Rebecca, Rachel, Leah,
Praise God who hears, forever.

A warrior, judge, and harlot was my mother.
God used her from time to time.
She gave what she gave, and was willing.
Rahab, Jael, Deborah, Judith,
Praise God who takes, forever.

A Galilean virgin was my mother.
She bore our Life and Hope.
And a sword pierced her own soul, also.
Mary, bless'd among women, bearer of God,
Praise God who loves, forever.

A witness to Christ's rising was my mother.
What angels said, she told.
The apostles thought it was an idle tale.
Mary, Mary Magdelene, Joanna, women with them,
Praise God who lives, forever.

A faithful Christian woman was my mother.
A mystic. Martyr. Saint.
May we, with her, in every generation
Past, Present, and Yet to come,
Praise God who made us, God who saved us,
God who keeps us all, forever.

PROCLAIM THE WORD OF GOD,
THE GOOD NEWS OF JESUS CHRIST:

Minister: Peace be with you.

Response: And with you.

HYMN: "One Day", original words by
J. Wilbur Chapman, adapted for this Worship Service, tune by Chas H. Marsh

One day when heav-en was filled with your praises,
One day when sin was as thick as could be,
You then came forth to be born of a vir-gin,
Dwelt a-mong us, an ex-am-ple for me!

Chorus: Living, You loved me;
dy-ing You saved me; Bur-ied, You car-ried my sins far a-way; Rising, You jus-ti-fied free-ly for-ev-er: One day You're com-ing,
O, glo-ri-ous day!

One day we led You up Cal-va-ry's moun-tain,
One day we nailed You to die on the tree;
Suf-fer-ing an-guish, de-spised and re-ject-ed,
Bear-ing my sins, a Re-deem-er for me!

One day we left You a-lone in the gar-den,
One day You rest-ed, from suf-fer-ring free;
An-gels came down o'er Your tomb to keep vigil;
Hope of the hope-less, a Sav-ior for me!

One day the grave could con-ceal You no long-er,
One day the stone rolled a-way from the door;
Then You a-rose, o-ver death You have con-quer-ed;
Now are as-cended, my Lord ev-er-more!

One day the trum-pet will sound for Your com-ing,
One day the skies with Your glo-ry will shine;
Won-der-ful day, my be-lov-ed ones bring-ing;
Glo-ri-ous Sav-ior, Oh! Je-sus You're mine!

Rev. Elder Jean White: The Sermon

PRAY FOR THE WORLD AND THE PEOPLE OF GOD:

Minister: Let us pray.

Response: (all are invited to share their prayers to God. Trust your sisters and brothers. Be brief.)

Minister: Let us pray.

Response: Oh God, our God, you come to us in newness, and we go to you with our old habits.
You come to us in truth, and we go to you with our illusions. You come to us in holiness, and we go to you with our cowardice.

Deliver us, Lord, from the fruits of death, and grant us the joy of discovering your path, in Christ Jesus, the risen Lord, who leads us to you...there to live, in the joy of the Spirit, that love which defies the enrolling ages.

SUNG PRAYER OF THANKS: "Thank You"
by Walter Van Der Haas and Peter-Paul Van Lelyveld, tune by Martin G. Schneider

Thank you for giv-ing me the morn-ing,
Thank you for ev-'ry day that's new,
Thank you that I can know my wor-ries
Can be cast on you.

Thank you for sis-ters and my broth-ers,
Thank you for all the ones that live,
Thank you for e-even greatest en-emies I can for-give.

Thank you - I have my life-time call-ing,
Thank you for ev-'ry pleas-ure small,
Thank you for mu-sic, light and glad-ness,
Thank you for them all.

Thank you for many little sorrows.
Thank you for ev'ry kindly word.
Thank you that ev'rywhere your guidance
Reaches ev'ry land.

Thank you - I see your Word has meaning,
Thank you - I know your Spirit here,
Thank you because you love all people.
Those both far and near.

Thank you, O Lord - you spoke unto us,
Thank you that for our words you care,
Thank you, O Lord - you came among us,
A full life to share.

Thank you, O Lord - your love is boundless,
Thank you that I am full of you,
Thank you - you make me feel so glad
And thankful as I do.

and to place them in a solid mass)

HYMN: "If God Is Like An Eagle"
by (then) Rev. Larry Bernier tune: Webb by George J. Webb

[illegible]

Note: Please, all those who are able, remain for a few moments to learn the Consecration Song for the Thursday Noon Table Eucharist. The words are by the Rev. Karen Ziegler, MCC, the tune is from a song by Judy Collins, "All Things Are Quite Silent".

On the night of his torture arrest was his fate,
Jesus sat with his sisters and brothers of late,
When he looked in their faces,
he saw there such peace,
That the words he then offered were part of their feast.

This bread is my body and broken for you
We are one body
as this we may do Break this bread now in memory that God's reign may come Celebrate now the victory our loving has won.

This cup of his passion
he offered and blessed
A symbol of healing, of laughter and rest Drink this cup of compassion and know that your life
Will be poured out forever and always in good.

According to Jewish tradition we light two candles on festivals...especially the Eve of the Sabbath because the law is given to us twice in the text. In one place we are told to 'remember' the Sabbath and keep it Holy. In another we are told to 'observe' the Sabbath and keep it Holy. Hence our Jewish sisters and brothers would light two candles. One to remember, one to observe.

HYMN: "Come, Thou Fount", original words by Robert Robinson, adapted, tune: Nettleton
(a Traditional American Folk Melody)

Come, thou Fount of every blessing,
Tune my heart to sing thy grace;
Streams of mercy, never ceasing
Call for hymns of loudest praise.
Teach me some melodious sonnet
Sung by flaming tongues above;
Praise the mount. I'm fixed upon it,
Mount of thy redeeming love.

Here, O God, I sing thy praises,
Hither by thy help I've come,
And I hope by thy good graces
Safely to arrive at home.
On this earth I am a stranger,
Travelling paths I do not know;
Take my hand in death or danger;
Where the Jordan's waters flow.

O to grace how great a debtor,
Daily I'm constrained to be!
Let thy goodness, like a fetter,
Bind my wandering heart to thee.
Prone to wander - how I feel it! -
Prone to leave the God I love;
Here's my heart, O take and seal it,
Seal it for thy courts above.

HYMN: "Search Me, O God", words by
J. Edwin Orr, set to a
Maori Folk Melody

Search me, O God, and know my heart today;
Try me, O Sav-ior, know my thoughts, I pray;
See if there be some wicked way in me:
Cleanse me from ev-'ry sin, and set me free.

I praise Thee, Lord, for cleansing me from sin:
Fulfill Thy word, and make me pure within;
Fill me with fire, where once I burned with shame:
Grant my desire to magnify Thy name.

Lord, take my life, and make it wholly Thine:
Fill my poor heart with Thy great love divine;
Take all my will, my passion, self and pride;
I now surrender: Lord, in me abide.

O Holy Ghost, revival comes from Thee;
Send a revival, start the work in me:
Thy Word de-claims Thou wilt supply our need:
For blessing now, O Lord, I humbly plead.

HYMN: "We Praise Thee O God" by Julia C.
Cory, set to a Folksong of the Netherlands, arr. by E. Kremser

We praise thee, O God, Our Redeemer, Creator.
In grateful devotion, Our tribute we bring.
We lay it before thee, We come and adore thee.
We bless thy holy name, Glad praises we bring.

We worship thee, God of our mothers and fathers,
Through life's storm and tempest,
Thou hast been our guide.

When perils o'ertake us, Thou wilt not forsake us.
In joys and in struggles, Remain at our side.
With voices united, Our praises we offer.
And gladly our songs Of true worship we raise.
Our sins now confessing, we pray for thy blessing;
To thee, our great Redeemer, Forever be praised.

THE GREETING:

Minister: Grace to us and peace from One who is
and who was and who is to come, and from Jesus Christ the faithful witness, the
firstborn of the dead.

To Jesus who loves us and has freed
us from our sins by paying the blood-price,
and made us a City, and priests to God, who
is our God:

Response: To God be glory and dominion for ever and ever

Minister: Peace be to you.

Response: And with you.

Minister: (an opening prayer)

AN ACT OF PRAISE: Luke 1: 46-55
(all standing)

My soul proclaims your greatness, O my God,
and my spirit has rejoiced in you, my Savior.

For your regard has blest me;
poor, and a serving woman.

From this day all generations
will call me blessed,

For you who are mighty, have made me great,
most holy be your name.

Your mercy is on those who fear you
through all generations.

You have showed strength with your arm. You have scattered the proud in their hearts' fantasy.

You have put down the mighty from their seat,
And have lifted up the powerless.

You have filled the hungry with good things,
And have sent the rich away empty.

You, remembering your mercy,
have helped your people Israel,

As you promised Abraham and Sarah,
Mercy to their children, forever.

Glory to God uncreated, God incarnate,
God among us; Who was in the beginning, is now
and will be, Even to the end. Amen.

AN ACT OF PENITENCE:

Note: Here everyone may write out that thing
for which it seems most difficult to accept forgiveness.

Minister: We know better than we do. Let us confess the failures of our love and the confusion of our lives.

Response: Father and Mother God, we confess that often we do not like the bodies we have. Sometimes we long for different families. We would exchange our jobs for the jobs of others. We would like to do away with parts of our history. We are afraid of our moods and feelings. We wish

we had more time. We would like to start over again. We lust after the prestige of others. We think more money will solve our problems. We resent the injustices we have suffered and cherish our sorrows. We want to be appreciated for our small graces. We are enchanted by the past and enticed by the future. We have never really been understood. In short, we have refused to live because we have held out for better terms. Heal us, God, from the distance we have tried to put between ourselves and life. Restore us to a love for you and for all your creation. Help us be renewed in our whole lives through Jesus Christ our Savior. Amen.

INVITATION TO ACCEPT
A SIGN OF REPENTENCE:

A SIGN OF PARDON:

Response: Lord, you seized me, and I could not resist you. I ran for a long time, but you followed me. I took bypaths, but you knew them. You overtook me. I struggled. You won. Here I am, Lord, out of breath, no fight left in me, and I've said "Yes" almost unwillingly. When I stood there trembling like one defeated before his captor, Your look of love fell on me. The die is cast, Lord; I can no longer forget you. In a moment you seized me, In a moment you conquered me. My doubts were swept away, My fears dispelled. For I recognized you without seeing you. I felt you without touching you, I understood you without hearing you. Marked by the unction of your love, I can no longer forget you. Now I know that you are there, close to me, and I work in peace beneath your gaze of love. I no longer know what it is to make an effort to pray. I just lift my eyes to you and I meet yours, and we understand one another. All is light, all is peace.

HYMN: "Because He Lives" words and music by
William J. and Gloria Gaither,
adapted for this Worship Service

You came to earth, they called You Jesus.
You came to love, heal and forgive.
You lived and died - to buy my pardon,
An empty grave is there to prove You really live.

Chorus: Because You live - I can face tomorrow
Because You live - all fear is gone,
Because I know - You hold the future,
And life is worth the living,
Just because You live.

How sweet to have, these new born fe-elings,
And know the pride and joy You give,
But greater still, the calm assurance,
Our love can face uncertain days -
Because You live.

And then one day - I'll cross that river,
And fight life's final war with pain,
And then as death - gives way to victory,
I'll see the light of glory and
I'll know You reign.

THE PROCLAMATION OF
THE WORD OF GOD:

Reading: Romans 15: 5-7, 14-21

Reading: Matthew 11: 2-10

Response: "Exaltation" to the tune:
Michael Rowed The Boat Ashore

Glo-ry be - to Thee, O Lord, Al-le-lu-ia!
The True light that en-lightens us, Al-le-lu-ia!

✓ Rev. Brent Hawkes: The Sermon

HYMN: "Sweet, Sweet Spirit" words and music
by Doris Akers

There's a sweet, sweet Spirit in this place,
And I know that it's the Spirit of the Lord;
There are sweet expressions on each face,
And I know they feel the presence of the Lord.

Chorus: Sweet Holy Spirit, Sweet Heavenly Dove,
Stay right here with us,
Filling us with Your love.

And for these blessings,
We lift our hearts in praise;
Without a doubt we'll know
that we have been re-vived,
When we shall leave this place.

There are blessings you cannot receive,
Till you know of Je-sus' fullness and believe;
You're the one to profit when you say,
"I am going to walk with Je-sus all the way."

If you say God saved you from your sin,
Now You're weak, you're bound and cannot enter in;
You can make it right if you will yield -
You'll enjoy the Holy Spirit that we feel.

AFFIRMATION OF FAITH:

Minister: We believe that...

Response: God still is creating and that we are called to join in this creation.

Minister: We believe that...

Response: God does not love us because Christ
died for us, but that Christ died for us because God loved us. And Christ continues to die for us today.

Minister: We believe that...

Response: God's Holy Spirit of love still sets undeserving people free and that God
calls us to help in this task of liberation.

Minister: We believe that...

Response: God's love is something that will never give up on us, and so we approach the future with confidence.

PRAY FOR THE WORLD AND THE PEOPLE OF GOD:

Minister: Let us pray.

Response: (all are invited to share their prayers to God. Trust your sisters and brothers. Be brief.)

Minister: Let us pray.

Response: Reform your Church and give us the courage to be, to follow you and do your work. May we cease in our attempts to dominate men and women. May we make no more demands and claim no more privileges, but only try to contribute to people's happiness

May we neither repel nor exclude anyone by the words we use or the ideas we have, but be open to everyone who seeks to live a happy and creative life. Help us to remember, God, that we were sent only to spread your grace in all humility, because we have been accepted by you and always need forgiveness.

THE OFFERTORY:

Minister: Beloved, the Gospel tells us that on the third day, the day Jesus rose from the dead he made himself known in the breaking of the bread. Come then to the joyful feast of the Lord. Let us prepare the table with the offerings of our life and labor.

HYMN: "God Keep Us From Oppression" words by
Rev. Susan Kliebenstein, MCC
tune: O Sacrament Most Holy

Refrain: God, keep us from oppression,
That freedom we might see.
We know our liberation can only come
from Thee.

We seek your strength and comfort,
In troubled times ahead.
Take fears and apprehension,
Give us your peace instead. (refrain)

In joy we've come to know now,
That you our lives sustain.
Keep us within your Spirit,
Your love in us maintain. (refrain)

When bitterness is tempting,
Remind us of your love.
Give us the will and way to,
Respond to hate with love.

DOXOLOGY: "Hoy de Lo Tuyo, Oh Dios"
(We Give Thee But Thine Own
Hoy de lo tu.yo, oh Dios,
Tra-e-mos a tu al-tar
Cual ma-yor-do-mos de tu ha-ber
Ve-ni-mos a o-fren-dar A-men.

THE SURSUM CORDA:

Minister: The Lord is with you.

Response: And also with you.

Minister: Lift up your hearts, your heads,
your songs and everything you've got!

Response: We lift them up to the Lord.

Minister: Let us give thanks to the Lord our God!

Reader: thanks for life and love,

Reader: thanks for who we are,

Reader: thanks for Jesus Christ,

Reader: thanks for friends and family,

Reader: and everything we've got;

Reader: thanks for joy and happiness,

Reader: and fresh forgiveness everyday!

Minister: (prayer of thanks)...Through Jesus,
you made it possible for us to praise and bless you and to call you intimately. And so, with everybody here,

Reader: with all your people everywhere,

Reader: with all the saints of heaven,

Reader: every being,

Reader: every force,

Reader: upon the earth,

Reader: in the water,

Reader: and in the air...

Response: We raise our hearts to you and proclaim with great joy: Holy, Holy, Holy Lord, God of power and might. Heaven and earth are full of your Glory. Hosanna in the highest.
Blessed is the One who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.

✓ Minister: (recalls the institution)...
And so, we gratefully recall and joyfully
proclaim:

Response: Dying you destroyed our death,
Rising you restored our life,
Come Lord Jesus in glory!

Minister: (continued the prayer)...to open our hearts to the poor, the sick, the dying and
to all who are in need.

Response: This we pray through Jesus Christ,
your very own Child, in union with the Holy Spirit that all glory, all honor, praise and thanksgiving may be yours, Oh God, our God,
today and every day - forever. Amen.

THE BREAKING OF BREAD AND ALLELUIA:

THE COMMUNION:

AN ACT OF PRAISE:

HYMN: "Glory Be To Jesus", Italian 18th Cent.
words translated by Edward Caswall,
Music by Friedrich Filitz

Glory be to Jesus, Who in bitter pains,
Poured for me the life-blood,
From God's sacred veins!

Grace and life eternal, In that blood I find,
Blest be this compassion, Infinitely kind!

Blest through endless ages,
Be the precious stream,
Which from sin and sorrow,
Doth the world redeem!

Oft as earth exulting, Wafts its praise on high,
Angel hosts, rejoicing, Make their glad reply.

Lift ye then your voices;
Swell the mighty flood;
Louder still and louder
Praise the precious blood.

Response: Jesus, Teacher, you know the problems we face trying to live in fellowship.
Whenever two or three unite to work or dwell together, clashes and blunders inevitably occur. May this meal re-create calm for those who no longer agree...And may every heart open its doors this day to serenity.

THE DISMISSAL:

Minister: Go out into the world in peace. be strong and of good courage. Hold fast what is good. Love and serve the Lord, rejoicing in the power of the Holy Spirit.

Response: Amen.

HYMN: "Someone's Lonely Lord" words by
Rev. Fred Pattison, tune: Kum Bah Yah

Someone's lonely Lord, Give them friends///
Oh! Lord, Give them friends.

Someone's fighting Lord, Give them peace///
Oh! Lord, Give them peace.

Oh! Lord, Give them love.

Someone's doubting Lord, Give them faith///
Oh! Lord, Give them faith.

We are living Lord, Help us care///
Oh! Lord, Help us care.

The Order of Worship is adapted from the experimental Order published by the Consultation on Church Union in 1968. It was an Ecumenical effort to conform to the patterns of Christian worship that have evolved since ancient times.

Adapted words to Come, Thou Fount are from Because We Are One People, as is true of
We Praise Thee O God.

The paraphrase of Luke 1: 46-55 (The Magnificat)
is from The Mother Thunder Mission. Note the Trinitarian formula at the end.

The prayer of confession is from Women & Worship.

The prayer after pardon, "Lord, you seized me",
is from Prayers by Michel Quoist translated by Agnes M Forsyth and Anne Marie de Commaille,
published by Avon in 1963.

The adaptation of Because He Lives developed in the Southeast District during successive District Conferences.

The Affirmation of Faith is from Women & Worship.

The prayer "Reform your Church" is from Your Word is Near, Contemporary Christian Prayers by Huub Oosterhuis, translated by N.D. Smith from the Dutch original Bid om Vrede, copyright in 1968 by the Paulist Press.

The Eucharistic Prayer format is adapted from one written by Rev. Robert Traupman and published in Liturgical Celebration, 1971 by
the North American Liturgy Resources, Cincinnati

Except for one word the Sanctus and Benedictus is used as found in "Prayers We Have In Common, Agreed Liturgical Texts proposed by The International Consultation on English Texts, published in England, Ireland and the United States. They say of it: These texts are acclamations, based upon Scripture, but not exactly conforming to the texts of Isaiah 6:3 or Mark 11: 9-10 respectively. At an early stage of the Church's liturgical use the reference to "heaven" was added in the second line. The difficulty for the translator lies in the word Sabaoth of the first line, which literally means "heavenly hosts of angels", which Revelation 4:8 renders by pancrator, "the Almighty". The common English translation of Sabaoth as "hosts" is open to misunderstanding because of other associations of the word, while some people object to its military metaphor. The proposed translation, "God of power and might" seems to satisfy the meaning of the Isaian text and to avoid the misconceptions of popular Biblical and hymnodic versions.

As in the Gloria in excelsis, a further problem is a suitable translation of in excelsis. The Book of Common Prayer paraphrased line 5 by "Glory be to thee, O Lord most high". The version adopted here, "in the highest", conforms to that used in the Gloria. It has this advantage: the rhythm of the line in English is exactly the same as that of the Latin. Not all liturgies use the Benedictus in conjunction with the Sanctus.

The Committee has met with representatives of the major Christian Churches throughout the English-speaking world and has done work on the Lord's Prayer, The Apostles' Creed, the Nicene Creed, Gloria in Excelsis, Sanctus and Benedictus, Gloria Patri, Sursum Corda, Agnus Dei and The Te Deum. It does not, in any way, deal with inclusive language but may be useful to persons and congregations doing so.

*The Beauty

WELCOME ABOARD

American Airlines salutes America's birds in flight. From the soaring gulls of New York Harbor to the graceful swallows of San Francisco Bay, the birds of America are a symbol of man's age-old desire to fly. We invite you to reflect on the beauty of flight as you savor your meal with us today, and to take this complimentary menu as a keepsake of your own flight.

Spinach Salad

Crisp, fresh spinach leaves and garden greens garnished with crunchy water chestnuts and savory bacon bits.

ENTREE SELECTIONS

Baked Scrod

New England Scrod sprinkled with seasoned bread crumbs then baked with fresh creamery butter. Served with parslid potatoes and peas and carrots.

Chicken Teriyaki

Boneless chicken, baked to a golden brown, served in a delightful teriyaki sauce, and accompanied by white rice and Oriental vegetables.

Filet Mignon au Poivre

A tender filet of beef, broiled to juicy perfection and topped with a delicately spiced sauce. Served with Duchess potatoes and whole green beans amandine.

As you will appreciate, storage space in our galleys is very limited. Sometimes, therefore, we are unable to offer a choice of main dish to every passenger. Should the choice be limited aboard this flight, please accept our apologies.

Available for Purchase:

*A Choice of Spirits, Cocktails and Cordials American Beer
American Champagne
Specially Selected Wines*

The fine wines we offer have been chosen by Creighton Churchill, widely known wine expert and author, consultant to American Airlines. They include selections from some of the West Coast's leading vineyards, among them Wente Bros. at Livermore, Sonoma Vineyards in Sonoma County and Monterey Vineyard in Monterey County—all in California—and Ste. Michelle Vineyards in Washington State. While visiting the West you will be welcomed at these vineyards, which have tasting rooms open to the public and frequent winery tours.

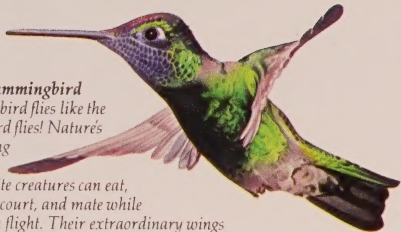

Red-headed Woodpecker

Noisy and quarrelsome, these handsome birds are the only eastern woodpeckers with completely red heads. Their four toes—two in front and two in back—identify them as tree-climbing birds; their stiff tail feathers are used to help prop them against tree trunks. Ranges from Canada south to Florida and the Gulf Coast and west to New Mexico, Colorado and eastern Wyoming.

Rivoli's Hummingbird

No other bird flies like the hummingbird flies! Nature's most amazing aerialists, these exquisite creatures can eat, drink, fight, court, and mate while suspended in flight. Their extraordinary wings are powered by the largest chest muscles for their size of any animal. Rivoli's Hummingbird can be found in the mountains of southeast Arizona, southwestern New Mexico, and western Texas.

European Tree Sparrow

Although introduced into the United States at St. Louis more than one hundred years ago, the European Tree Sparrow has remained close to that city and its surrounding farmland. Apparently the indigenous bird population has resisted any encroachment upon their territory by these gregarious newcomers.

THE UNIVERSAL FELLOWSHIP OF METROPOLITAN COMMUNITY CHURCHES
EASTERN MINISTERS' CONFERENCE
CEDAR GLEN - TORONTO
JUNE 17, 18, 19, 1980

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 18, 1980

HYMN: "Come, Thou Fount", original words by
Robert Robinson, adapted, tune: Nettleton
(a Traditional American Folk Melody)

Come, thou Fount of every blessing,
Tune my heart to sing thy grace;
Streams of mercy, never ceasing
Call for hymns of loudest praise.
Teach me some melodious sonnet
Sung by flaming tongues above;
Praise the mount. I'm fixed upon it,
Mount of thy redeeming love.

Here, O God, I sing thy praises,
Hither by thy help I've come,
And I hope by thy good graces
Safely to arrive at home.

On this earth I am a stranger,
Travelling paths I do not know;
Take my hand in death or danger;
Where the Jordan's waters flow.

O to grace how great a debtor,
Daily I'm constrained to be!
Let thy goodness, like a fetter,
Bind my wandering heart to thee.
Prone to wander - how I feel it! -
Prone to leave the God I love;
Here's my heart, O take and seal it,
Seal it for thy courts above.

HYMN: "Search Me, O God", words by
J. Edwin Orr, set to a
Maori Folk Melody

Search me, O God, and know my heart today;
Try me, O Sav-ior, know my thoughts, I pray;
See if there be some wicked way in me:
Cleanse me from ev-'ry sin, and set me free.

I praise Thee, Lord, for cleansing me from sin:
Fulfill Thy word, and make me pure within;
Fill me with fire, where once I burned with shame:
Grant my desire to magnify Thy name.

Lord, take my life, and make it wholly Thine:
Fill my poor heart with Thy great love divine;
Take all my will, my passion, self and pride;
I now surrender: Lord, in me abide.

O Holy Ghost, revival comes from Thee;
Send a revival, start the work in me:
Thy Word de-claims Thou wilt supply our need:
For blessing now, O Lord, I humbly plead.

HYMN: "We Praise Thee O God" by Julia C.
Cory, set to a Folksong of the
Netherlands, arr. by E. Kremser

We praise thee, O God, Our Redeemer, Creator.
In grateful devotion, Our tribute we bring.
We lay it before thee, We come and adore thee.
We bless thy holy name, Glad praises we bring.

We worship thee, God of our mothers and fathers,
Through life's storm and tempest,
Thou hast been our guide.

When perils o'ertake us, Thou wilt not forsake us.
In joys and in struggles, Remain at our side.
With voices united, Our praises we offer.
And gladly our songs Of true worship we raise.
Our sins now confessing, we pray for thy blessing;
To thee, our great Redeemer, Forever be praised.

THE GREETING:

Minister: Grace to us and peace from One who is
and who was and who is to come, and from Jesus Christ the faithful witness, the
firstborn of the dead.

To Jesus who loves us and has freed
us from our sins by paying the blood-price,
and made us a City, and priests to God, who
is our God:

Response: To God be glory and dominion for ever and ever

Minister: Peace be to you.

Response: And with you.

AN ACT OF PRAISE: Luke 1: 46-55
(all standing)

My soul proclaims your greatness, O my God,
and my spirit has rejoiced in you, my Savior.

For your regard has blest me,
poor, and a serving woman.

From this day all generations
will call me blessed,

For you who are mighty, have made me great,
most holy be your name.

Your mercy is on those who fear you
through all generations.

You have showed strength with your arm. You have scattered the proud in their hearts' fantasy.

You have put down the mighty from their seat,
And have lifted up the powerless.

You have filled the hungry with good things,
And have sent the rich away empty.

You, remembering your mercy,
have helped your people Israel,

As you promised Abraham and Sarah,
Mercy to their children, forever.

Glory to God uncreated, God incarnate,
God among us; Who was in the beginning, is now
and will be, Even to the end. Amen.

AN ACT OF PENITENCE:

Note: Here everyone may write out that thing
for which it seems most difficult to accept forgiveness.

Minister: We know better than we do. Let us
confess the failures of our love and the
confusion of our lives.

Response: Father and Mother God, we confess
that often we do not like the bodies we have. Sometimes we long for different families. We would exchange our jobs for the jobs of others. We would like to do away with parts of our history. We are afraid of our moods and feelings. We wish

we had more time. We would like to start over again. We lust after the prestige of others. We think more money will solve our problems. We resent the injustices we have suffered and cherish our sorrows. We want to be appreciated for our small graces. We are enchanted by the past and enticed by the future. We have never really been understood. In short, we have refused to live because we have held out for better terms. Heal us, God, from the distance we have tried to put between ourselves and life. Restore us to a love for you and for all your creation. Help us be renewed in our whole lives through Jesus Christ our Savior. Amen.

✓ INVITATION TO ACCEPT

A SIGN OF PARDON:

Response: Lord, you seized me, and I could not resist you. I ran for a long time, but you followed me. I took bypaths, but you knew them. You overtook me. I struggled. You won. Here I am, Lord, out of breath, no fight left in me, and I've said "Yes" almost unwillingly. When I stood there trembling like one defeated before his captor, Your look of love fell on me. The die is cast, Lord; I can no longer forget you. In a moment you seized me, In a moment you conquered me. My doubts were swept away, My fears dispelled. For I recognized you without seeing you. I felt you without touching you, I understood you without hearing you. Marked by the unction of your love, I can no longer forget you. Now I know that you are there, close to me, and I work in peace beneath your gaze of love. I no longer know what it is to make an effort to pray. I just lift my eyes to you and I meet yours, and we understand one another. All is light, all is peace.

HYMN: "Because He Lives" words and music by
William J. and Gloria Gaither,
adapted for this Worship Service

You came to earth, they called You Jesus.
You came to love, heal and forgive.
You lived and died - to buy my pardon,
An empty grave is there to prove You really live.

Chorus: Because You live - I can face tomorrow
Because You live - all fear is gone,
Because I know - You hold the future,
And life is worth the living,
Just because You live.

How sweet to have, these new born feel-ings,
And know the pride and joy You give,
But greater still, the calm assurance,
Our love can face uncertain days -
Because You live.

And then one day - I'll cross that river,
And fight life's final war with pain,
And then as death - gives way to victory,
I'll see the light of glory and
I'll know You reign.

THE PROCLAMATION OF
THE WORD OF GOD:

Reading: Romans 15: 5-7, 14-21

Reading: Matthew 11: 2-10

Response: "Exaltation" to the tune:
Michael Rowed The Boat Ashore

Glo-ry be - to Thee, O Lord, Al-le-lu-ia!
The True light that en-lightens us, Al-le-lu-ia!

Rev. Brent Hawkes: The Sermon

HYMN: "Sweet, Sweet Spirit" words and music
by Doris Akers

There's a sweet, sweet Spirit in this place,
And I know that it's the Spirit of the Lord;
There are sweet expressions on each face,
And I know they feel the presence of the Lord.

Chorus: Sweet Holy Spirit, Sweet Heavenly Dove,
Stay right here with us,
Filling us with Your love.

And for these blessings,
We lift our hearts in praise;
Without a doubt we'll know that we have been re-lived,
When we shall leave this place.

There are blessings you cannot receive,
Till you know of Je-sus' fullness and believe;
You're the one to profit when you say,
"I am going to walk with Je-sus all the way."

If you say God saved you from your sin,
Now You're weak, you're bound and cannot enter in
You can make it right if you will yield -
You'll enjoy the Holy Spirit that we feel.

AFFIRMATION OF FAITH:

Minister: We believe that...

Response: God still is creating and that we are called to join in this creation.

Minister: We believe that...

Response: God does not love us because Christ
died for us, but that Christ died for us
because God loved us. And Christ continues
to die for us today.

Minister: We believe that...

Response: God's Holy Spirit of love still
sets undeserving people free and that God
calls us to help in this task of liberation.

Minister: We believe that...

Response: God's love is something that will never give up on us, and so we approach the
future with confidence.

Minister: Let us pray.

Response: (all are invited to share their prayers to God. Trust your sisters and brothers. Be brief.)

Minister: Let us pray.

Response: Reform your Church and give us the courage to be, to follow you and do your work. May we cease in our attempts to dominate men and women. May we make no more demands and claim no more privileges, but
only try to contribute to people's happiness

May we neither repel nor exclude anyone by the words we use or the ideas we have, but be open to everyone who seeks to live a happy and creative life. Help us to remember, God, that we were sent only to spread your grace in all humility, because we have been accepted by you and always need forgiveness.

THE OFFERTORY:

Minister: Beloved, the Gospel tells us that on the third day, the day Jesus rose from the dead he made himself known in the breaking of the bread. Come then to the joyful feast of the Lord. Let us prepare the table with the offerings of our life and labor.

HYMN: "God Keep Us From Oppression" words by
Rev. Susan Kliebenstein, MCC
tune: O Sacrament Most Holy

Refrain: God, keep us from oppression,
That freedom we might see.
We know our liberation can only come
from Thee.

We seek your strength and comfort,
In troubled times ahead.
Take fears and apprehension,
Give us your peace instead. (refrain)

In joy we've come to know now,
That you our lives sustain.
Keep us within your Spirit,
Your love in us maintain. (refrain)

When bitterness is tempting,
Remind us of your love.
Give us the will and way to,
Respond to hate with love.

DOXOLOGY: "Hoy de Lo Tuvo, Oh Dios"
(We Give Thee But Thine Own
Hoy de lo tu.yo, oh Dios,
Tra-e-mos a tu al-tar
Cual ma-yor-do-mos de tu ha-ber
Ve-ni-mos a o-fren-dar A-men.

THE SURSUM CORDA:

Minister: The Lord is with you.

Response: And also with you.

Minister: Lift up your hearts, your heads,
your songs and everything you've got!

Response: We lift them up to the Lord.

Minister: Let us give thanks to the Lord our God!

Reader: thanks for life and love,

Reader: thanks for who we are,

Reader: thanks for Jesus Christ,

Reader: thanks for friends and family,

Reader: and everything we've got;

Reader: thanks for joy and happiness,

Reader: and fresh forgiveness everyday!

Minister: (prayer of thanks)...Through Jesus,
you made it possible for us to praise and bless you and to call you intimately. And so, with
everybody here,

Reader: with all your people everywhere,

Reader: with all the saints of heaven,

Reader: every being,

Reader: every force,

Reader: upon the earth,

Reader: in the water,

Reader: and in the air...

Response: We raise our hearts to you and
proclaim with great joy: Holy, Holy, Holy Lord, God of power and might. Heaven and earth are full of your Glory. Hosanna in the highest.
Blessed is the One who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.

Minister: (recalls the institution)...

And so, we gratefully recall and joyfully
proclaim:

Response: Dying you destroyed our death,
Rising you restored our life,
Come Lord Jesus in glory!

Minister: (continued the prayer)...to open our hearts to the poor, the sick, the dying and
to all who are in need.

Response: This we pray through Jesus Christ,
your very own Child, in union with the Holy Spirit that all glory, all honor, praise and
thanksgiving may be yours, Oh God, our God,
today and every day - forever. Amen.

AN ACT OF PRAISE:

HYMN: "Glory Be To Jesus", Italian 18th Cent.
words translated by Edward Caswall,
Music by Friedrich Filitz

Glory be to Jesus, Who in bitter pains,
Poured for me the life-blood,
From God's sacred veins!

Grace and life eternal, In that blood I find,
Blest be this compassion, Infinitely kind!

Blest through endless ages,
Be the precious stream,
Which from sin and sorrow,
Doth the world redeem!

Oft as earth exulting, Wafts its praise on high,
Angel hosts, rejoicing, Make their glad reply.

Lift ye then your voices;
Swell the mighty flood;
Louder still and louder
Praise the precious blood.

Response: Jesus, Teacher, you know the
problems we face trying to live in fellowship.
Whenever two or three unite to work or dwell
together, clashes and blunders inevitably occur. May this meal re-create calm for those who no longer agree...And may every heart open its doors this day to serenity.

THE DISMISSAL:

Minister: Go out into the world in peace. be strong and of good courage. Hold fast what is good. Love and serve the Lord,
rejoicing in the power of the Holy Spirit.
Response: Amen.

HYMN: "Someone's Lonely Lord" words by
Rev. Fred Pattison, tune: Kum Bah Yah

Oh! Lord, Give them friends.

Oh! Lord, Give them peace.

Oh! Lord, Give them love.

Someone's doubting Lord, Give them faith///
Oh! Lord, Give them faith.

We are living Lord, Help us care///
Oh! Lord, Help us care.

Note: Certain sources are fully cited in the Tuesday service bulletin. These are not fully cited here.

The Order of Worship is adapted from the experimental Order published by the Consultation on Church Union in 1968. It was an Ecumenical effort to conform to the patterns of Christian worship that have evolved since ancient times.

Adapted words to Come, Thou Fount are from
Because We Are One People, as is true of
We Praise Thee O God.

The paraphrase of Luke 1: 46-55 (The Magnificat)
is from The Mother Thunder Mission. Note the Trinitarian formula at the end.

The prayer of confession is from Women & Worship.

The prayer after pardon, "Lord, you seized me",
is from Prayers by Michel Quoist translated by Agnes M Forsyth and Anne Marie de Commaille,
published by Avon in 1963.

The adaptation of Because He Lives developed
in the Southeast District during successive District Conferences.

The Affirmation of Faith is from Women & Worship.

The prayer "Reform your Church" is from Your Word is Near, Contemporary Christian Prayers by Huub Oosterhuis, translated by N.D. Smith from the Dutch original Bid om Vrede, copyright in 1968 by the Paulist Press.

The Eucharistic Prayer format is adapted from one written by Rev. Robert Traupman and
the North American Liturgy Resources, Cincinnati

Except for one word the Sanctus and Benedictus is used as found in "Prayers We Have In Common, Agreed Liturgical Texts proposed by The International Consultation on English Texts, published in England, Ireland and the United States. They say of it: These texts are acclamations, based upon Scripture, but not exactly conforming to the texts of Isaiah 6:3 or Mark 11: 9-10 respectively. At an early stage of the Church's liturgical use the reference to "heaven" was added in the second line. The difficulty for the translator lies in the word Sabaoth of the first line, which literally means "heavenly hosts of angels", which Revelation 4:8 renders by pentecrator, "the Almighty". The common English translation of Sabaoth as "hosts" is open to misunderstanding because of other associations of the word, while some people object to its military metaphor. The proposed translation, "God of power and might" seems to satisfy the meaning of the Isaiah text and to avoid the misconceptions of popular Biblical and hymnodic versions.

As in the Gloria in excelsis, a further problem is a suitable translation of in excelsis. The Book of Common Prayer paraphrased line 3 by "Glory be to thee, O Lord most high". The version adopted here, "in the highest", conforms to that used in the Gloria. It has this advantage: the rhythm of the line in English is exactly the same as that of the Latin. Not all liturgies use the Benedictus in conjunction with the Sanctus.

The Committee has met with representatives of the major Christian Churches throughout the English-speaking world and has done work on The Lord's Prayer, The Apostles' Creed, The Nicene Creed, Gloria in Excelsis, Sanctus and Benedictus, Gloria Patri, Sursum Corda, Agnus Dei and The Te Deum. It does not, in any way, deal with inclusive language but may be useful to persons and congregations doing so.

TORONTO

"Queen City" of Canada

The capital city of Ontario is a modern centre of culture, education, commerce and industry. With its history, art, recreation, sports and entertainment, Toronto includes everything. Huron Indians named it "the meeting place," and today this city extends a friendly welcome to all.

Several historic sites, such as Fort York, provide insights into the past. Among these are the Old Lighthouse, where oil lamps burned, and ruins of the Old Mill where Toronto's industry first began.

Casa Loma, a castle overlooking the city, has secret staircases and panels that echo a rich man's dream to entertain a king. The Art Gallery of Ontario exhibits paintings and sculpture while the Royal Ontario Museum has a variety of displays including a fine Chinese collection. Concerts in parks, live theatre, ballet and opera are just some of the attractions for a wonderful evening of entertainment.

Visit the world-famous University of Toronto, stroll along beautiful garden paths or take the ferry to Toronto Islands, an inviting place for swimming, boating or a picnic. Bluffs along the lakeshore offer dramatic vistas, and on clear days distant mists from Niagara Falls are visible. The swish of skate blades announces the city's hockey team while thundering hoofs are heard at the racetracks, and the cracking of bats during baseball season. More than 100 parks offer facilities for year around recreation.

With all this to offer, it is no wonder why Toronto has earned the name the "Queen City" of Canada.

CONSERVE AIR FUEL DOLLARS

YOUR CAR

- Keep the engine in tune. Check plugs, points, fuel and air filters and emission control devices.
- Keep tires inflated to the maximum recommended pressure.
- Prevent gas-tank overflow by not filling it to the neck.

PLAN AHEAD

- Select the optimum route in terms of distance and type of highway. An AAA Travel Counselor can assist you.
- Travel light and avoid using a car-top rack. The less weight and wind resistance, the better the mileage.
- Combine short trips, such as visits, errands and shopping.

YOUR DRIVING

- The most economical speed varies from car to car. Therefore, find and maintain the moderate, legal speed that is best for your vehicle.
- Accelerate smoothly and gradually; fast "getaways" eat gas.
- Maintain a steady speed as traffic permits.
- Anticipate traffic signals to minimize stop-and-go driving.
- Build up speed before reaching an up-hill grade, not on it.
- Turn off the engine if you must park for more than a minute.
- Reduce long warm-ups by driving slowly rather than idling a cold engine.
- Reduce the use of air conditioning.

USING YOUR TOURBOOK

This TourBook has only one purpose: to make your trip as enjoyable as possible by providing accurate, detailed information about attractions and accommodations in the area through which you are traveling. No attraction, hotel, motel, resort or restaurant pays for a listing. Each is listed on the basis of merit alone, after careful inspection and approval by a AAA/CAA Field Representative. Annual revision of all the material in the TourBooks ensures that you receive the latest information available at press time.

The What to See section of the TourBook describes many scenic, historic, recreational and other attractions which can add immensely to the scope of your trip. The Where to Stay—Where to Dine section, introduced by the vertical black strip, contains detailed listings for the best of lodging accommodations and dining establishments in the region. Comprehensive introductory pages explain the listings, tell how accommodations and restaurants are selected and outline how the rate guarantee applies to hotels, motels and resorts.

In addition, you will find a number of maps—some pinpointing accommodations—of major cities, national parks, and other areas of particular importance in the area covered by this volume. Also provided are a temperature table, a chart of driving distances and a list of CAA clubs through whose territories your trip will take you. Population figures are based on the latest reports of Statistics Canada.

Seeing the Sights

The What to See section of the TourBook is intended to serve as a travel guide to selected places to visit, rather than as a commercial, geographic or promotional encyclopedia. Only communities that offer something of particular or unusual travel interest—something for you to do or see that differentiates the town from many others in the area or Nation—are included.

Each province begins with a general writeup, which paints a broad picture of the historical, geographical, economic and other factors that contribute to the province's individual character. A selection of some of the major or unusual annual celebrations or festivals gives you an idea of what may be going on where you are traveling; complete information on events is available at your local CAA club. Such factual data as the highest and lowest elevations, legal holidays and alcoholic beverage laws are highlighted in the Things to Know box.

The Recreation section outlines the kinds of sports and recreational activities that may be enjoyed in the province. More specifically, the recreation chart indicates the facilities available in the most developed of the provincial parks and other areas; unusual or special features of park are also mentioned.

The provincial orientation map is primarily an index. Areas on the recreation chart are keyed to it by means of numbers. It also shows the location of the towns that are listed as places of interest; the coordinates (for example, A-3) following the place names under the What to See heading refer to this map. An index to starred attractions appears in conjunction with the orientation map.

The Attraction Listings

As previously stated, any attraction listed in the TourBook has been approved by a AAA/CAA Field Representative. Its quality is reflected in its general description. To assist you in selecting places to visit, we have placed a star (★) before certain listings. These are the attractions that are of particular or exceptional interest and quality; see them, by all means, if your time and itinerary permit. As a further aid, a star next to a town name on the orientation map indicates the presence of an attraction that merits this distinction.

Attractions are listed alphabetically under the nearest community; in most cases, the distances given are computed from the center of town unless otherwise specified. After the descriptive information come the days, hours and season the attraction is open. At the end of the listing are the admission prices, which are quoted without provincial, municipal or other local taxes. Days, months and age groups written with a hyphen are inclusive (6-11 means 6 through 11). Children under the lowest age specified are admitted free if they are accompanied by an adult.

A Note About Hours and Prices

All information in the TourBooks is checked prior to each revision, and is accurate at press time. However, since the books are issued annually, changes often occur between editions. While we regret any inconvenience resulting from such instances, they are obviously beyond our control. Increases in the admission fees charged by attractions are NOT covered under the rate guarantee, which applies only to lodging accommodations whose listings contain the phrase "Rates Guaranteed" (see About Accommodations).

Attraction Admission Discounts

Some attractions offer discounts to members upon presentation of a valid AAA or CAA membership card. This discount is given to both adults and children unless otherwise specified, and usually applies to a party of one to six persons. The discount may not apply in cases where any other rate reduction is offered, or if tickets are purchased through an agent rather than at the attraction ticket office.

Each attraction determines whether it will reduce the regular adult admission by a percentage (at least 20 percent) or by a flat rate (at least 50c); some elect to exceed these minimums. Children's admissions are usually similarly reduced. The word Discount following the prices in an attraction's listing indicates that this AAA/CAA member benefit is available throughout the validity period of this TourBook, or during the attraction's entire operating season. If the reduction is offered for a shorter period of time, the dates during which it applies immediately follow the word Discount; in these cases, the minimum discount will be either 20 percent or $1 off the regular adult rate.

Advertising

In AAA publications you will find many advertisements. Only attractions, accommodations, restaurants and campgrounds that are approved for listing by AAA/CAA Field Representative may advertise. Be assured, however, that the purchase of advertising has no effect on inspections, evaluations or ratings. These advertisements will provide you with more information that may be helpful to you in selecting what to see and where to stay.

CURRENCY . . . The rates quoted in Canadian listings are in Canadian dollars. Private establishments are under no obligation to accept, convert or pay a premium on currency of other countries. Therefore, it is to your financial advantage to use Canadian currency when traveling in Canada. The only means of securing the official prevailing rate of exchange on U.S. currency is to change your money at a bank or purchase travelers checks in Canadian funds.

In addition, you may find ads for various travel-related products, services or specific regions. Acceptance of advertisements for any item, service or area does not imply AAA/CAA endorsement.

When Problems Arise

Even in the best of organizations, and in the most carefully managed establishments, problems will sometimes develop. This doesn't mean that an attraction, hotel, motel or restaurant is disinterested in you as a guest, or that we are not concerned with your travel welfare. Usually, it simply means that something has been overlooked, misunderstood or has temporarily gone wrong with the system. You are invited, of course, to report both pleasant and unpleasant experiences. To help us maintain the best service, every complaint is thoroughly investigated.

Other Information Available to Members

The AAA/CAA travel package contains a wealth of interrelated materials. In addition to the TourBooks, there is the Triptik—a series of strip maps tracing your individual route. State, province and regional maps cover in detail most of North America; town names printed in red on AAA/CAA maps indicate communities under which AAA/CAA-approved lodgings and dining facilities are listed in the TourBooks. Other publications are the CampBooks, listing thousands of approved campgrounds; directories of contract service stations that offer the famous AAA/CAA Emergency Road Service; and the CitiBooks, pocket-size guides to some of the major cities in the United States.

An this is not all. A question directed to a travel counselor at your AAA/CAA club, or at any affiliated club along your way, can bring you information on such subjects as the current status of certain highway construction projects, detours, local weather conditions, bridge tolls and ferry schedules. Inquiries on special events in an area, the duration of hunting and fishing seasons, blossom festivals or fall foliage, colleges and universities, summer theaters and sightseeing tours can be answered. From stock car races to rodeos, from ski areas to storage garages, our references cover it. Just ask. We're here to serve you.

BORDER INFORMATION

Entering Canada and Returning to the United States

PASSPORTS to enter Canada or return to the United States are NOT required of U.S. citizens. However, proof of citizenship must be carried; a birth or baptismal certificate will usually satisfy this requirement. The acceptability of any particular document is left to the discretion of immigration authorities. Naturalized citizens should carry naturalization papers and U.S. resident aliens must have an Alien Registration Receipt Card. Persons under 18 unaccompanied by an adult must have a letter from a parent or guardian authorizing them to travel to Canada.

CANADIAN CUSTOMS REGULATIONS

VEHICLES, including trailers not exceeding 9 feet (2.74 meters) in width, entering Canada for touring periods up to one year, will generally find entry procedures quick and routine. However, a visitor may not leave or store a car, trailer or other goods in Canada while he leaves the country without either paying import duty and taxes or presenting the necessary permit to leave the items in Canada. This and any other required permits are issued by Canadian customs officials at the point of entry.

Vehicle registration cards are necessary for Canadian travel. Drivers of cars not their own also must have written permission from the owner for use of the car in Canada. A copy of the contract is required for rented cars.

The U.S. motorist planning to travel in Canada should obtain from his own insurance company a yellow Non-Resident Inter-Province Motor Vehicle Liability Card. The yellow card insures the holder against financial responsibility at least in accordance with the minimum amount required in every province of Canada. In view of Quebec's insurance act barring law suits for bodily injury which results from an automobile accident, travelers to Quebec should check their collision and disability coverages and discuss their bodily injury coverage with their insurance agent. Additional short-term coverage, such as a trip accident policy, is recommended. Evidence of financial responsibility is required at all times. The penalties for not producing such evidence vary from province to province and can result in complicated, costly and time-consuming problems for the unprepared visitor.

PERSONAL BAGGAGE is admissible into Canada on a temporary basis without payment of duties and taxes; however, a refundable security deposit may be required by customs at the time of entry. Deposits are not normally required when visits are made for health or pleasure purposes, provided all items are to be re-exported at the conclusion of the trip.

Personal baggage which may be taken into Canada on a duty- and tax-free basis includes wearing apparel and personal effects, sporting goods, automobiles, vessels, aircraft, snowmobiles, cameras and other articles which are considered appropriate for the purpose and duration of the visit. Consumable items are limited per person to 50 cigars, 200 cigarettes, 2 pounds (0.91 kilograms) of tobacco, 37.2 U.S. ounces (1.1 liters) of liquor or wine (or as a substitute, 284 U.S. ounces—8.2 liters—of beer or ale) and 2 days' food supply. Generally, a minimum stay of

24 hours is required in order to take any liquor or tobacco into Canada. All articles above allowable quantities are subject to the regular customs assessment, and in addition, a provincial liquor permit is required before excess alcoholic beverages may be imported. Provincial permits may be purchased from customs at the time of entry, in all provinces except Prince Edward Island and the Northwest Territories, for quantities up to 2.4 U.S. gallons (9.1 liters). The minimum legal age applicable to the importation of alcoholic beverages varies from 18 to 19, depending on the province; the legal age in respect to the importation of tobacco products is 16 years.

Articles purchased at Canadian duty-free shops are subject to U.S. customs exemptions and restrictions; those purchased at U.S. duty-free shops before entering Canada are subject to duty if brought back into the United States.

GIFTS, excluding tobacco, alcoholic beverages and advertising matter, taken into or mailed to Canada by nonresidents are allowed free entry if the total value of the gifts for any one recipient from any one donor does not exceed $15 (Canadian currency). Gifts valued at more than $15 are subject to the regular duty and taxes on the excess amount.

FIREARMS—Pistols are restricted entry into Canada; fully automatic weapons and firearms less than 65 centimeters in length or designed to be fired when reduced to that length, are prohibited entry altogether. To enter handguns temporarily, participants in bona fide marksmanship competitions must apply to the local Registrar of Firearms at the port of entry. Participants in competition events can bring in 1,000 rounds of ammunition—and hunters 200 rounds—free of duty.

Most sporting rifles and shotguns can be admitted without a permit if the visitor is 16 or older, but visitors under 16 may not import any firearms. A description of such equipment and serial numbers of guns must be submitted to Canadian customs.

Travelers to Alaska via the Alaska Highway must have handguns and semiautomatic guns shipped or flown by a commercial carrier; permits to transport such weapons through Canada are usually not issued.

CITIZENS BAND radios, or walkie-talkies of 100 milliwatts or less, operating on the 26.97-27.27 megacycle band, are not subject to restrictions. More powerful units of those or any other design, including mobile telephones or units operating on other frequencies, can be operated in Canada only if accompanied by a special permit. You should obtain your permit in advance by writing to: Director, Telecommunications Regulations Branch, Dept. of Communications, Ottawa, ON K1A 0C8; Room 320-325 Granville St., Vancouver, BC V6C 1S5; 2300-1 Lombard Place, Winnipeg, MB R3B 2Z8; 55 St. Clair Ave. E., Toronto, ON M4T 1M2; 20th Floor, 2085 Union Ave. Montreal, PQ H3A 2C3; or to 7th Floor, Terminal Plaza Building, 1222 Main St., Moncton, NB E1C 8P9. Application should be made at least 30 days prior to the date of entry; a copy of the operator's Class D license should be attached.

DOGS AND CATS must be accompanied by a certificate signed by a licensed veterinarian declaring that the animal has been vaccinated against rabies within the past 36 months; and a reasonably complete description of the animal. "Seeing Eye" dogs are exempt from these rules, as are puppies and kittens under the age of 3 months, provided they are healthy at the time of importation.

WHEN YOU TRAVEL IN CANADA

AAA-affiliated motor clubs form the Canadian Automobile Association, with headquarters at 150 Gloucester St., Ottawa, ON K2P 0A6. CAA clubs provide the same services for AAA members as do the AAA clubs in the United States. Establishments displaying the Official Appointment sign shown above have met the rigid inspection requirements of the two associations.

CURRENCY: All prices and admission fees quoted are in Canadian dollars. Private establishments are under no obligation to accept, convert or pay a premium on currency of other countries. It is to the tourist's financial advantage to use Canadian currency when traveling in Canada. The only means of obtaining the official exchange rate is to change U.S. funds at a bank or purchase travelers checks in Canadian currency.

THE IMPERIAL MEASURE: At press time, it was reported that about 70 percent of the gas stations in Canada sell gasoline by the liter. However, when purchasing gasoline and oil at stations which have not yet converted to the metric system, motorists should remember that the imperial measure used in Canada is one-fifth, or 20 percent, larger than the corresponding U.S. measure. Five gallons Canadian measure (22.74 liters) are equal to six gallons U.S. measure.

PLANT MATERIAL must be declared upon entry into Canada. Those planning to take in plants or plant material should obtain a phytosanitary certificate from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Fresh fruits and vegetables not grown in Canada are subject to inspection at the time of entry and must not exceed quantities for personal or family use. Certain fruits and vegetables are not permitted entry under any circumstance and may be confiscated at the discretion of the Canadian border officials. For further information, write Plant Quarantine Division, Canadian Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, ON K1A 0C5.

EMPLOYMENT OF VISITORS and other non-immigrants in Canada is given only in rare cases when there are no qualified Canadians or landed immigrants available. Visas authorizing paid employment at a specified job for a specified period of time must be obtained from the Department of Canada Employment and Immigration Department. Persons who intend to finance their visit by seeking a paying job may be refused entry to the country.

U.S. CUSTOMS REGULATIONS

EXEMPTIONS granted to returning residents of the United States include a $300 exemption, if not used within the prior 30 days, for residents who have been in Canada not less than 48 hours. The exemptions are based on retail value and apply to articles acquired for personal or household use or as bona fide gifts but not intended for sale. Exemptions for a family unit may be combined; thus, a family of six would be entitled to a duty-free exemption of $1,800 on one declaration, even if the articles declared by one member of the family exceeded that individual's $300 exemption. Sales slips should be kept; they are positive proof of retail value. All articles for which the $300 exemption is claimed must accompany the person at the time of return.

Visitors may send bona fide gifts to friends and relatives in the United States, provided the retail value of any one gift is no more than $25, and no more than one gift per day is received by any one recipient. Tobacco products, alcoholic beverages and perfume containing alcohol valued at more than $5 retail are excluded from this provision. The package containing the gift must be marked "Unsolicited Gift—Value Under $25" in large bold letters on the outside. These gifts are not included in the returning resident's $300 exemption and are not to be declared upon return to the United States.

A returning resident entitled to the $300 exemption may include 100 cigars and 200 cigarettes duty free. Goods originating in North Korea, Vietnam, Cambodia, Rhodesia or Cuba and any goods containing Cuban components are not admissible.

LIQUOR to the amount of one liter per person 21 years of age or over may be included in the $300 residents' exemption from duty and internal-revenue tax. In all cases, state liquor laws are enforced by customs.

AN EXEMPTION, applicable to a returning resident who has been in Canada for less than 48 hours, allows him to bring back merchandise to the retail value of $25 duty and tax free. Such an exemption must not include more than 50 cigarettes, 10 cigars, 4 ounces (118 milliliters) of alcoholic beverages or 4 ounces (118 milliliters) of alcoholic perfume or proportionate amounts (2 ounces-59 milliliters) of each.

If any article brought back is subject to duty or tax, or if the total value of all articles exceeds $25, no article may be exempted from duty or tax. Members of a family unit may not combine the value of their purchases under this exemption. All goods must be declared.

CERTAIN ARTICLES considered injurious or detrimental to the general welfare of the United States are prohibited entry by law. Among these are narcotics and dangerous drugs, obscene articles and publications, lottery tickets, liquor-filled candies and switch-blade knives, etc.

Endangered species of plants and wildlife or products made of any part of such species are prohibited. Persons considering the purchase or import of fur, animal skins other than leather or any product manufactured wholly or in part of wildlife should write to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of Interior, Washington, DC 20240, for additional information.

If a traveler requires medicines containing narcotics or habit-forming drugs, including cough and headache remedies, he should have them properly identified and carry only such quantities as might normally be needed for a health problem. He should carry proof, either in prescription form or as a written statement from his physician, that the medicines are being used under doctor's direction and are necessary for the traveler's well-being.

SOME AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS of Canadian origin (fruits, plants, meats, etc.) may be brought into the United States. However, all must be declared to customs officials at the U.S. border. For specific information write to Quarantines, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Federal Center Bldg., Hyattsville, MD 20782.

ONTARIO

GREATER THAN the sum of its parts, Ontario is for many the showpiece of Canada. Bordering four of the five Great Lakes, the province provides the major gateway to and from the United States. One consequence is an economic success that ranks first in the Nation; another is a formidable tourist trade (Ontario entertains three times its population in U.S. visitors yearly). And the popularity is fitting: dozens of singular attractions account for the province's distinct reputation. Niagara Falls is a perennial spellbinder; the Stratford Festival memorably evokes Elizabeth I's era; glittering Toronto unfurls the latest in architecture and the arts. Ontario's pride, however, is Ottawa; rich with pomp and ceremony, it lends itself to all Canadians—as the cherished national capital.

HISTORY

The first white man to see Ontario was French explorer Etienne Brule, who arrived via the Ottawa River in the early 1600's. He was joined by Samuel de Champlain, who was searching for a northern ocean, in 1615; Champlain went on to become the first European to witness the Great Lakes, which he viewed from Lake Huron's eastern shore. His example was followed by Jesuit missionaries who penetrated the area around Windsor in the 1640's, paving the way for such adventurers as Joliet, La Salle and Cadillac. By the end of the decade, eight of the missionaries had been killed by Indians; a memorial near Midland is Canada's national shrine to Jesuit martyrs in North America. Priests Dollier and Galinee claimed the general region for France in 1669 while erecting a cross near Port Dover.

Settlement after these initial excursions was very slow. For the most part, the territory was a vast wilderness known only to ambitious fur traders from France and England. However, the commercial rivalry that resulted became submerged in larger issues developing throughout Canada; the question of national dominance erupted into the Seven Years' War, which ended with English victory in 1763. Afterwards, Britain compensated the Indians for their losses in the struggle by land grants such as Brantford. In 1774, the territory became an extended colony ruled from Quebec.

Real colonization began with the influx of American Loyalists as a result of the Revolutionary War. In 1791, Canada was divided at the Ottawa River (present boundary between Ontario and Quebec), with all western territory becoming Upper Canada and all eastern, Lower Canada. Niagara-on-the Lake was established as capital of Upper Canada at that time, but was replaced by York in 1797.

Ontario was heavily involved in the War of 1812 and witnessed several battles, including British successes at Queenston Heights, Stoney Creek and Crysler Farm, near Morrisburg; York was burned by American invaders. After the war's end, and the fall of Napoleon in France, large numbers of English, Scots and Irish swelled the population. Agitation for a more responsive government began, led by reformist editor William Lyon Mackenzie; his revolt of 1837, though unsuccessful, led to an investigative report recommending that Lower and Upper Canada be united. Other reforms were also instituted, though it was not until 12 years later that the principle of representative government was firmly established. The British North America Act of 1867 created the Dominion of Canada and provincial boundaries that recognized the sectionalism of English Ontario and French Quebec.

The constitution for Ontario, also drawn up in 1867, gave the province a legislature. The unicameral body, established at the time, has not seen fit to institute a second house although it has the power to do so. The system has so proved itself that it has been adopted by all Canadian provinces except Quebec.

GEOGRAPHY

Ontario is second in size only to Quebec province. From north to south at the deepest point it measures 1,690 kilometers and from east to west the greatest length is 1,609 kilometers. Traditionally, it consists of two parts—determined by a line of division following the French and Mattawa Rivers from Georgian Bay northeast to Mattawa. North of the line is a relatively untouched vastness of rock and forest; south is the better known Ontario that shelters most of the industry and seven-eighths of the population.

The latter section is characterized by its unending shoreline; all of the Great Lakes, except Lake Michigan, have their northern frontage here. This is a low-relief area, with slight rises south of Georgian Bay and in the southern part of the Canadian Shield. Near northern and eastern Lake Superior, elevations may reach 640 meters (Tip Top Hill and Mount Batchawana).

Water is virtually everywhere in Ontario—especially in the southern portion which is basically a tributary to the St. Lawrence. River systems of the north include the Moose, Albany, Attawapiskat, Winisk and Severn. Roughly 250,000 lakes constitute a total water area of 178,074 square kilometers, an expanse roughly the size of the State of Missouri. Among the largest interior lakes are Lake of the Woods, Lake of the Bays and Lakes Nipigon, Nipissing, Simcoe and St. Clair. Most significant to Ontario, of course, are the Great Lakes—Superior, Huron, Erie and Ontario.

The waterway system is aided by manmade features—the St. Lawrence, Welland and Sault Ste. Marie canals. The Trent-Severn Waterway System connects Lake Ontario with Lake Huron and the Georgian Bay; the Rideau Waterway links the Ottawa River with Lake Ontario. Waterfalls proliferate here, with the 54-meter Niagara claiming supremacy. Better known island groups include the 1,000 Islands of the St. Lawrence, the 30,000 Islands of the Georgian Bay and neighboring Manitoulin Island—at 2,792 square kilometers believed to be the world's largest.

ECONOMY

Canada's most productive province, Ontario accounts for about 40 percent of the national income. A natural advantage is the cheap transportation afforded by the Great Lakes to U.S. industrial and consumer centers; with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959, this accessibility has been augmented by ocean shipping.

Ontario's manufacturing output from over 18,000 plants equals in gross value that for all factories throughout the rest of Canada combined. Almost the entire Canadian output of automobiles, agricultural implements and starch products comes from Ontario, along with over half the country's iron and steel products, tannery and rubber goods, electrical apparatus and supplies, flour and feed mill production and other products. A manufacturing claim to distinction is Cornwall Island's lacrosse stick factory—said to be the only one of its kind in the world.

The province is Canada's largest producer of all agricultural commodities. Farm income is derived from the following sources in this order: field crops, livestock, dairy products, poultry and eggs, fruit and vegetables, tobacco, maple products, fur farming and wool. St. Catharines prospers as the center of the Niagara fruit belt.

Substantial mineral and forest resources from the Canadian shield have also benefited Ontario. Collingwood is a major shipbuilder and furniture maker; Thunder Bay is noted for its pulp mills. The province is the world's largest source of nickel and the country's major gold producer (the Timmins and Kirkland Lake areas have the chief gold mines). Sudbury is known for both copper and nickel production, while Cobalt mines substantial amounts of silver. Amethyst is mined in Thunder Bay. Iron ore is also important and discoveries of uranium have made Ontario a major producer.

Fisheries are still significant to the economy—principally in Lake Erie, the Georgian Bay and the northern inland waters. One of the largest inland fishing fleets is at Port Dover. Wild furs, especially in northern Ontario, profit smaller communities; beaver, muskrat and mink form the majority of the trade.

EVENTS

Ontario's calendar reflects the breadth of the province itself. The year appropriately begins with the Bon Soo Winter Carnival in Sault Ste. Marie, and with others in Owen Sound, Niagara Falls, Orillia, Burlington, and Barrie, as well as the Muskoka Winter Carnival in Gravenhurst, Bracebridge and Huntsville. As the snows melt, Toronto rallies sportsmen with its March dog show and the Quarterama Quarterhorse show. Elmira ushers in early April with its Maple Syrup Fest, Niagara Falls holds its Blossom Festival from late April through early May and Guelph hosts a Spring Festival in early May. New Hamburg offers bidders a chance at a host of handcrafted articles, food and artwork at the Mennonite Auction Relief Sale in May, and Ottawa holds its Ottawa/Outaouais Festival of Spring to mark the peak of tulip season. Parades, regattas and fireworks are just part of the activities at the latter. Other May events are the Salmon Fishing Derby, followed by the Folk Arts Festival in St. Catharines, from late May to early June, and Niagara-on-the-Lake's Shaw Festival, from late May to mid-September. Stratford counters with the Stratford Festival, from mid-June to mid-October.

Mid-June is the time of the Textile Festival in Cambridge; late in the month is Toronto's 3-day Mariposa Folk Festival. Around the same time, Toronto also holds its Caravan celebration, in which international gourmet foods, entertainment and handcrafts reflect the city's many cultures. Toronto's June impetus is carried on with the running of the Queen's Plate, one of Canada's foremost Thoroughbred races. The Canadian national holiday, July 1, is celebrated throughout Canada, with special festivities in Ottawa and Windsor: Ottawa makes rafting contests part of its month-long Festival Canada, and Windsor shares week-long festivities with nearby Detroit, Michigan.

Fort Frances holds its Fun in the Sun Festival in July, with canoe races, log-rolling events and sky diving. The busy month continues with the Kawartha Lakes Open Fiddle and Step Dancing contests in Bobcaygeon, the Grand Prix of Canada Formula 750 motorcycle race in Mosport, and Kenora's International Sailing Regatta, a 7-day race through 14,600 islands. A special interest in Highland games is shown by Cobourg the first Saturday in July, Brantford in mid-July, Maxville in early August and Fergus in mid-August. St. Catharines takes to the waters with its Royal Canadian Henley Rowing Regatta, late July or early August; at the same time, Cobalt remembers earlier days with its Miners' Festival. Gemboree is held the first week in August at Bancroft, and includes expeditions and displays. Brantford is the setting for the Six Nations Indian Pageant, while Wikwemikong holds the Wikwemikong Indian Pow Wow the same month. Other August events are the Williamstown Fair, inaugurated in 1814 and the oldest annual fall fair in the province; the Canadian Open Old Time Fiddlers' Contest in Shelburne; and the Canadian Open Tennis Championships in Toronto. Concluding the summer are Ottawa's Central Canada Exhibition and Kitchener's Central Ontario Exhibition, the last 2 weeks in August, and Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition (considered the world's largest), mid-August to the first week of September.

Mid-September sees the Niagara Regional Exhibition in Welland, followed by the Niagara Grape and Wine Festival in St. Catharines. Fall foliage is celebrated with the Muskoka Cavalcade of Colour and the Haliburton Highlands Festival of Colour at the end of September into early October. Mid-October brings a 9-day Oktoberfest to the Kitchener-Waterloo area, and a Harvest Festival in Niagara Falls. Mid-November brings the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto, featuring equestrian jumping and racing. The Simcoe Christmas Panorama ends the year with 70 outdoor, illuminated displays depicting fairy tale and Nativity scenes throughout the month of December.

RECREATION

Almost any vacation desire can be sated in Ontario, known for its luxury resorts and wilderness reaches. Probably the favorite recreational assets are the quarter million lakes and numerous rivers. Boating and fishing opportunities abound at Lake of Bays (Huntsville is the northern entrance), the Kawartha Lakes (main entrances are Lindsay and Peterborough), Lake of the Woods (Kenora is the main access), Rice Lake, the Rideau Lakes of Smith Falls fame, Muskoka Lake and Lake Simcoe (Barrie and Orillia are featured resorts). Gana-noque and Kingston, heading the Thousand Islands group, specialize in boat cruises; Parry Sound overlooks the scenic 30,000 Islands; Manitoulin Island offers fishing along a 177-kilometer coastline. Fishing is also favored at Port Dover, on Lake Erie, and Honey Harbor, near the Georgian Bay Islands. Georgian Bay extended to the western end of Lake Nipissing becomes the French River waterway, another popular recreation area.

While many of these waters shelter fish such as muskellunge, bass, pickerel, trout and pike, the northern wilderness is equally profitable for the gamesman. Besides fish, certain sections contain deer, bear, moose, beaver, duck and partridge. Algoma is a large wilderness area of western Ontario; the Chapleau Crown Game Preserve, Chapleau, is near Lake Superior.

Boat routes for the cruise oriented include the Ontario portion of the Great River Road, an extension of the Mississippi River. Pilot wheel markers along part of the waterway indicate areas of historical or recreational interest. The Canadian part of the Lake Superior Circle Route follows the lake's north shore between Thunder Bay and Sault Ste. Marie. Hikers will enjoy the 772-kilometer Bruce Trail, a former Indian path that follows the picturesque Niagara Escarpment from Niagara to Tobermory. Most of the well-marked route is accessible by automobile.

Numerous slopes—too many to fully list here—accommodate the skier. Best known are the Mount McKay area, southwest of Thunder Bay; Raven Mountain, near Kirkland Lake; and Blue Mountain, near Collingwood. Barrie and Huntsville, both located just north of Toronto, provide convenient facilities for the skiing enthusiast.

Besides 3 national and over 125 provincial parks, there are many roadside tourist parks ranging in size from half a hectare to more than several hundred hectares. Many of these parks are of especially scenic interest; some also have excellent beaches and tourist facilities. The provincial parks of Ontario include a wealth of varied natural vacation areas. The vehicle entry permit, which may be purchased for a season or for a day, is honored in all provincial parks in Ontario, as well as in those areas administered by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission. Camping fees are charged; most camping areas have room for trailers. Provincial fishing and hunting licenses are required. For complete information about camping and trailering areas, both private and public, consult the appropriate CampBook.

FORT ERIE (J-4) pop. 24,031

★ CRYSTAL BEACH AMUSEMENT PARK, 11.2 km w. of Peace Bridge via Hwy. 3 to CR 28, then 4.8 km s. on Regional Rd. 28, is one of the largest amusement parks in Ontario. The park has 30 major rides and 10 kiddieland rides. Also featured are a bathing beach, miniature golf course, fun house, shooting gallery and 20 game stands. Tues.-Sat. and holidays 12:30-11, Sun. 1:30-11, June 24-Sept. 1; Thurs. 11-6, Fri. 11-11, Sat. 12:30-11, Sun. 1:30-11, Memorial Day weekend-June 22. Adults $6.75, ages 4-11, $4.75; includes most rides. Phone (416) 894-2240.

MATHER MEMORIAL ARCHWAY AND PARK, near the entrance to Peace Bridge, is a memorial to Alonzo C. Mather, an American philanthropist.

★ OLD FORT ERIE, originally built in 1764, was destroyed by flood and ice in 1779. Another storm destroyed the second fort in 1803. The third fort, begun in 1804, was still incomplete when war broke out in 1812. In July 1814, while garrisoned by only 170 men, it was attacked by 4,500 Americans under Gen. Jacob Brown and the British surrendered. The Americans strengthened the fort, defended it against one assault and later abandoned it.

Now restored, Fort Erie is an impressive structure, with a ditch, drawbridge, bastions and guns typical of early 19th-century fortifications. It contains relics of the War of 1812 and many pieces of equipment used by the British and American armies. The guards, in early 19th-century uniforms, perform drills and fire cannons daily in summer. Daily 9:30-6, mid-May to mid-Oct. Adults $1.25, under 13, 50c.

FORT MALDEN NATIONAL HISTORIC PARK (G-1)

The park is at Amherstburg, on Hwy. 18, 25.75 kilometers south of Windsor. Following the surrender of Detroit by the British in 1796, Fort Malden was constructed on the banks of the Detroit River. For more than 50 years a principal frontier post in upper Canada, it was the rallying point for British forces in the attack on Detroit in 1812.

After the Battle of Lake Erie (1813) it was burned and abandoned, then occupied by an invading force from the United States. In 1815, it was evacuated and restored to the British. Garrisoned again by detachments of British regiments, it was an important base during the Patriots' Rebellion of 1837-38.

The site includes the remaining earthworks, restored barracks and two exhibit buildings. Daily 10-6, June 1-Labour Day; 10-5, rest of year; closed Dec. 25, 26 and Jan. 1. Free.

FORT WELLINGTON NATIONAL HISTORIC PARK (F-6)

On the St. Lawrence River at Prescott, Fort Wellington (1813) was erected during the War of 1812 and named for the Duke of Wellington. Although it was never besieged, its garrison participated in two attacks on Ogdensburg, N.Y., just across the St. Lawrence River. The second attack, in 1813, resulted in the capture of that town and the command of the river. During the Patriots' Rebellion of 1838 the fort, neglected since 1827, was repaired and the blockhouse rebuilt.

FORT WELLINGTON consists of earthworks surrounded by a palisade and dry ditch. The stone blockhouse has walls over a meter thick and is pierced with loopholes; it is the most elaborate of the 200 such structures built in British North America. It contains a restored guard room, armoury, powder magazine, barracks room, contemporary exhibits, and small theater. An interesting feature is the caponniere, a tunnel leading under the ramparts to a stone sally port designed to provide flanking fire in the south moat. Daily 9-6, May 15-Labour Day; daily 10-5, Labour Day-Oct. 31; by appointment rest of year. Free. Phone (613) 925-2896.

GANANOQUE (G-5) pop. 5,103

A popular resort on the St. Lawrence River, Gananoque (gan-an-OCK-way) is the chief Canadian entrance to the Thousand Islands. Twelve islands form the St. Lawrence Islands National Park (see description). Tours of the islands by air are available; check locally. At Half Moon Bay, in the Admiralty of the Thousand Islands, nondenominational church services are held Sunday afternoons in July and August from a rock pulpit at the edge of a natural amphitheater. The congregation remains in boats.

MOOSONEE

The "true north" of the Indian and fur trader is still evident in Moosonee, a village 24.25 kilometers up the Moose River from its mouth on James Bay. Since 1673, when the Hudson's Bay Company established a post on nearby Moose Factory Island, this has been an important fur rendezvous.

No roads lead to Moosonee; access is via an excursion train from Cochrane (see description). Indicative of the outpost's atmosphere are the moosehide altarcloths and Cree-language prayer books in St. Thomas Church (1860). In the 19th century, the church itself almost floated away in a flood, but the villagers managed to hold it on its foundations. To prevent a recurrence, holes were drilled in the floor and plugged, which would allow water to fill the building rather than carry it away.

In Moose Factory Museum Park, site of the early trading post, is a forge building, a gunpowder magazine and an orientation building depicting the story of the fur trade in the area. The park is open daily 10-5, June 21-Sept. 1; free.

MORRISBURG (F-6) pop. 2,188

★ UPPER CANADA VILLAGE, in Crysler Farm Battlefield Park, 11.25 km e. is a recreation of a St. Lawrence Valley community of the 19th century. Approximately 40 buildings, originally destined for inundation by the St. Lawrence Seaway, were moved from their original sites to form this memorial to the pioneer settlers of the province. Among these buildings are Cook's Tavern (1835), the woolen mill, Providence Church (1845), the schoolmaster's house (1820) and the general store (1860). Vehicles are not allowed in the village. Visitors enter over an 1840 bridge after passing a tollgate.

Tickets sold less than 3 hours before closing time may be validated upon request, before leaving the village, for use the following day. Open daily 9:30-6:30, June 15-Labour Day; 9:30-5, May 15-June 14 and Labour Day-Oct. 15. Adults $3, ages 6-15, $1; family rate $8.

Traditionally a destination of honeymooners as well as tourists, the cities of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Niagara Falls, N.Y., are connected by bridge across the Niagara River about midway along its 56-kilometer course from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario. Through Niagara Falls, Ont., passes the Niagara Parkway, paralleling the river from Fort Erie to Niagara-on-the-Lake in a continuous system of parks and historic sites. The New York city is also a manufacturing center, benefiting from the development of tremendous hydroelectric power.

The river, bisected by the international boundary, is really a strait which acts as a giant spillway carrying the drainage from 663,000 square kilometers of mid-North America; at Niagara Falls its sudden drop creates one of the outstanding spectacles on the continent.

The Canadian Falls, 54 meters high, have a crest of over 675 meters outlining a deep curve, from which the name Horseshoe Falls derives. The American Falls, illuminated (as are the Canadian falls) for 2½ to 3½ hours after dusk, plummet 56 meters and are about 328 meters wide in a fairly straight line; Luna Island separates the American Falls from Bridal Veil Falls. The combined flow of the river over the three

The capital of Canada, Ottawa is at the confluence of the Ottawa and the Rideau Rivers. In 1615, Samuel de Champlain, the first European explorer in the area, established a base camp for future expeditions points. For two hundred years, the Ottawa River remained the only means of travel to the interior for innumerable fur traders and missionaries and provided rapid transportation for the Algonquin Indians with furs for Montreal.

The first European settlement in the area was established across the river at what is now Hull, Quebec in 1800. A few settlers cleared land on the south shore in 1809. They were followed after 1815 by veterans of the Napoleonic Wars and the war against the United States, who were given military grants in the area. In 1823 the Earl of Dalhousie, Governor of British North America, secured commanding ground for the Crown on the heights now known as Parliament Hill. This was soon bordered by two settlements called Upper and Lower Town.

The settlement's first official name was By Town in honor of Col. John By, who directed the building of the Rideau Canal. The canal, constructed between 1827 and 1831, was to provide a waterway for British gunboats, allowing them to avoid the international section of the St. Lawrence River where they might be subjected to gun attacks from the American shore. Flanked by scenic drives, the canal provides a delightful cruise for pleasure craft. It has a total of 48 hand-operated locks, 8 of which lift boats 25 meters from the Ottawa River to the heart of the city. In winter, the canal is drained to a depth of 1 meter and is maintained as the world's longest skating rink, measuring 7.25 kilometers from the city center to Carleton University.

Renamed, Ottawa was chosen in 1857 by Queen Victoria, who anticipated confederation, as the future capital of Canada. Confederation was achieved 10 years later.

Ottawa has the largest public display of tulips in North America; over a million bloom each spring. The annual Ottawa Tulip Festival is held the last 2 weeks in May. The bulbs are a gift from the Netherlands' government in recognition of the refuge granted to the Dutch Royal Family during World War II. NATIONAL WAR MEMORIAL, on Confederation Sq. at jct. of Wellington, Rideau and Elgin Sts., is an impressive monument. It is dedicated to Canadian soldiers of World War I.

★ PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, three celebrated Gothic buildings, dominate the city from Parliament Hill. Originally built between 1859 and 1865, they remain unchanged except for the Center Block, which was replaced after a fire in 1916. This central building is crowned by the magnificent 89-meter Peace Tower with its carillon of 53 bells, the largest of which weighs 10,080 kilograms. Dedicated to the 66,650 Canadians who sacrificed their lives in World War I, the Peace Tower contains national memorials and the Memorial Chamber with the Book of Remembrance. The parapet near the summit affords a fine view of the area.

The white light at the base of the flagpole burns at all times; the white light at the top indicates the House of Commons is in session. Statues and monuments stand at the sides and rear of the Center Block. Free tours of the Center Block every 15 minutes Mon.-Fri. 9-9, Sat.-Sun. 9-6, in summer; daily 9-4:30, rest of year; closed Jan. 1 and Dec. 25.

★ Changing the Guard, an ancient military ceremony, is performed by Her Majesty's Canadian Guards on the lawns of Parliament Hill daily at 10 a.m., last Sun. in June-Labour Day. Ceremony includes inspection of dress and weapons, parading of the Colour and the exchange of compliments. The style of uniforms was last worn in field operations by British troops during the Nile Expedition of 1884.

PAUL'S BOAT LINES offers scenic cruises from the Ottawa Locks along the Rideau Canal and Ottawa River. Many of Ottawa's attractions can be seen during the cruise. Operates daily 11 a.m.-8:30 p.m., May 13-Oct. 15. Adults $5, under 12, $2.50.

★ POINT PEELE NATIONAL PARK (H-1)

Southernmost mainland point in Canada, Point Pelee National Park is 56 kilometers south-east of Detroit, Mich., and 10 kilometers south of Leamington. The 9.6-square-kilometer park is one of Canada's most popular summer resorts. On the west side is Pigeon Bay, famed for its beautiful sunsets. To the east lies Sturgeon Bay, named for the large sturgeon-breeding grounds that were once here. The uplands consist of sand dunes surrounded by forests of redcedar, pine, black walnut, maple and oak. The lowlands are composed of 1,000 hectares of marshland.

The park is an excellent natural sanctuary for the thousands of migratory birds that visit yearly. Numerous ponds afford refuge for small water animals, such as muskrat and mink.

In 1670, Dollier and Galinée camped on East Beach during their exploration. During the Pontiac War in 1763, Lt. Abraham Cuyler's detachment of Royal Americans and Queen's rangers were attacked on the beach by Wyandots; 54 of the group were killed and 4 wounded. General Brock's expedition landed here August 12, 1812, four days before the capture of Detroit. During the Canada Rebellion, the battle of Pelee Island was fought March 3, 1838.

A boardwalk extends to a 6-meter-high observation tower 945 meters out into the marsh. Eight hundred hectares of fresh-water marsh may be seen from this tower. Other viewpoints are at Sanctuary Pond. Canoes and bicycles may be rented from April through Labour Day.

A woodland nature trail is open with park naturalists on duty throughout the year. Conducted tours may be arranged through the Interpretive Centre, which features maps, sketches, pictures and other displays explaining the three major areas in the park—forest, sand dunes and marsh. Exhibits are presented to encourage the visitor to explore independently or to attend naturalist talks and conducted outings. The Interpretive Centre also houses an exhibit hall, auditorium, rotunda, information area, library and laboratory, as well as headquarters of the park naturalist. Open daily 10-6, May 15-Labour Day; Mon.-Fri. 1-4, Sat., Sun. and holidays noon-5, rest of year.

The park is open daily 4 a.m.-10 p.m. Visitors must register and secure a transient motor license from Apr. to Labour Day only; single trip $2 per car, $10 per year. See Recreation Chart. Phone (519) 326-3204.

SAULT STE. MARIE (D-1) pop. 81,048

Facing each other across the St. Marys River are the Ontario and Michigan cities of Sault Ste. Marie.

The rapids were discovered by Brule and Grenolle in 1622 and the first permanent mission was founded here by Père Marquette in 1669. Many eminent Jesuits were stationed here until the abandonment of the mission in 1689. In 1750 a French military post was established and was garrisoned until taken by the British in 1762. The settlement was an important fur-trading post until 1842.

The Soo Locks, which connect Lake Superior with St. Marys River and Lake Huron, are operated from April to December. The Canadian lock, built in 1895, is 274 meters long and 18 meters wide with a depth of 5 meters. Operations of the locks may be viewed from a stand. Bellevue park has a playground, zoo and sailboat marina. The Bon Soo Winter Carnival is held annually from the last week in January to the first week in February.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH, 4.75 km e. on Lake Shore Rd., near Sibbald Point Provincial Park, was built in 1877 in memory of Susan Sibbald, sponsor of the first church (1839) built on this site. Stephen Leacock, author and humorist, and Mazo De La Roche, novelist, are buried in the churchyard. Church open daily, Victoria Day-Thanksgiving.

THOUSAND ISLANDS

A French explorer called this region "Thousand Islands" and, although the islands number more than 1,700, the name has persisted. Some of these islands in the St. Lawrence River are mere points of rocks, others are village size, but most can accommodate only a home or summer camp. Numerous old stone mansions and colonial houses dot the islands and markers have been placed commemorating the French and Indian War and the War of 1812.

The best way to see the islands is to take a boat tour offered by the boat lines described under Gananoque, Ivy Lea, Kingston and Rockport. St. Lawrence Islands National Park is here (see description). Between the spans of the Thousand Islands Bridge is the 1000 Islands Skydeck (see Hill Island).

THUNDER BAY (B-5) pop. 111,476

In 1969 Fort William and Port Arthur combined to form Canada's newest city and third largest port, Thunder Bay. At the head of navigation on Lake Superior, this fine harbor area has storage facilities for 105 million bushels of grain. Grain elevator and pulp mill tours are available in July and Aug.; children under 12 not permitted on tours.

BOULEVARD LAKE PARK, 2.5 km e. of the south metro area on Hwy. 17B, then n. via Gibson St., is a 400-hectare park surrounding Boulevard Lake. Ontario Place

Toronto

(pop. 633,318, metro. area 2,800,000; alt. 25 m)

Toronto, capital of Ontario, has shed its Victorian primness to become a lively leader in Canada. Once typified by slow growth, Toronto has metamorphosed into a bold, cosmopolitan city quick to accept change and challenge, proud of its diversity.

Largest English-speaking city in Canada, Toronto is also a financial, industrial and cultural center. The Toronto stock exchange is one of the largest in North America in terms of volume handled. A 48-kilometer area surrounding the city contains the highest manufacturing concentration of any tract of similar size in Canada. The Royal Ontario Museum, Massey Hall, O'Keefe Centre for the performing arts, the Royal Alexandra Theatre and the St. Lawrence Centre provide a cultural climate unmatched in any other Canadian city.

The face of Toronto is modern, with glass-walled skyscrapers rising cleanly from geometric plazas. Outstanding examples are Toronto-Dominion Centre and Toronto City Hall. The Centre boasts the 56-story Toronto-Dominion Bank Tower, a banking pavilion and two companion towers. City Hall, composed of two slender towers framing a domed amphitheater atop a rotunda and a reflecting pool, dominates the concourse in Nathan Phillips Square. Tallest of the four bank skyscrapers is the 72-story Bank of Montreal at First Canadian Place.

Toronto's Greenwich Village is Yorkville, four exotic blocks bordered by Avenue Rd., Yonge St., Bloor St. and Yorkville Ave. This promenade of art galleries, coffee houses, small, elegant shops and upbeat lounges attracts both tourists and residents.

Reminders of traditional Toronto are the Victorian-Romanesque Parliament Buildings which sedately preside over the elegant lawns of Queen's Park. A dozen stately statues lend stoic dignity. In harmonious contrast to the modern glass and steel city, the buildings quietly cloak bustling Toronto with a light mantle of age and serenity.

Toronto is one of the fastest growing cities on the continent. It and its boroughs—Etobicoke, York, East York, the city of North York and Scarborough—cover 634 square kilometers, geographically the largest city in Canada.

The tract was first seen by a European in 1615 when Huron Indians led French explorer Etienne Brule to their "meeting place." The land's westward location and friction between the eastern colonists and Indians delayed settlement until 1749 when French fur traders from Quebec established Fort Rouille. The tiny fort became a scene of conflict between the French and English and later, during the War of 1812, between the British and Americans. Following the cessation of hostilities in 1814, the town began to grow. In 1834, with a population of 9,000, the city was incorporated as Toronto. The tiny settlement, once only a stopping place for travelers and long contested by warring countries, had finally come of age.

Toronto began to boom with increased lake travel and the coming of the railroad in the latter part of the 19th century. By World War II, its advantageous position on Lake Ontario and its nearness to raw materials, power and fuel had combined to produce a prosperous city. Following the war, an infusion of some 400,000 Europeans attracted by the myriad economic opportunities changed Toronto into a conglomerate, cosmopolitan city.

The city's approximately 200 hundred parks bear the hospitable motto, "Please Walk on the Grass." Besides providing hardy grass and the setting for a variety of events, metropolitan parks offer a variety of recreational facilities. In winter they become snowy wonderlands for skiing, tobogganing and sleighing. Among the institutions of higher education here are the University of Toronto, the second largest college in the British Commonwealth, Ontario College of Art and York University.

A Toronto commentator observed that the city was once famous for the largest hotel, tallest building and dullest Sundays in Canada. Not so today; Toronto prides itself on offering a warm welcome.

Approaches

By Car

The main approach routes from the south pass through either Buffalo or Detroit. When traveling from Buffalo follow Queen Elizabeth Way (QEW) which, near the city limits, becomes the Gardiner Expressway to downtown Toronto. The most direct route from Detroit is Hwy. 401 (Macdonald-Cartier Freeway), which enters north Toronto. To reach the business district from Hwy. 401, exit at the Hwy. 427 interchange and travel south to the QEW and the Gardiner Expressway.

Principal northern approaches are Hwy. 400 from Barrie and Hwy. 401 from Montreal and the Thousand Islands area. To reach the downtown area from Hwy. 401 east, exit onto the Don Valley Parkway and proceed south.

By Plane, Bus and Train

Toronto International Airport, at Malton, 32 kilometers west via the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway and Airport Expressway, handles commercial passenger traffic. In addition to limousine service from downtown hotels, airport buses leave the Royal York Hotel every 20 minutes. One-way fare is $3.75, under 12, $2. Taxis average $15 one way. Free shuttle service between Royal York Hotel and Holiday Inn Downtown. Driving time between downtown Toronto and the airport is 30 to 40 minutes, or slightly more during rush hours. An alternative to limousine or taxi is to take the TTC bus or the subway to Islington or York Mills stations and the airport bus ($1.50-$2) to terminals 1 and 2.

Daily bus service connects Toronto with all parts of Canada and with principal cities in the United States. Gray Coach Lines of Canada (487-5111), an affiliate of Greyhound, and the parent Greyhound Lines provide direct service from Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Jacksonville (Fla.), Miami, New York, Washington, D.C., and other cities. Both lines use a terminal at 610 Bay Street, near the city hall.

The main Canadian rail system, Via Rail (367-4300 and 366-7411), provides service to all parts of Canada and to Buffalo, N.Y., Windsor, Ont. (adjacent to Detroit) and Sarnia, Ont. (opposite Port Huron, Mich.). Union Station, across from the Royal York Hotel on the lake front (Front St.), handles traffic for Via Rail.

Getting Around

Try to time your arrival for midmorning, midday or after the evening rush hour, since it is much easier to negotiate high-speed expressways and unfamiliar streets without hordes of residents trying to get to work on time or home early. Visitors should avoid driving in the business district, especially during rush hour.

The Convention & Tourist Bureau of Metropolitan Toronto, 220 Yonge St., Suite 110, Box 510, Toronto Eaton Center (979-3133), and the Tourist Information Office in the new City Hall dispense travel material and handle tourist needs.

Street System

Metropolitan Toronto is ringed with expressways which form an inner belt around the city. Traveling east and west are the Gardiner Expressway, skirting the southern edge of the city and downtown area, and the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway in the northern borough of Etobicoke and the city of North York. Extending from the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway (Hwy. 401) to the Gardiner Expressway is Hwy. 427, on the east the Don Valley Parkway.

The streets of Toronto form a grid pattern easily followed by newcomers. Dividing the city into east and west sectors is Yonge (pronounced Young) Street, one of the main north-south avenues. Northern numbering begins at the lake front, east-west numbering at Yonge Street.

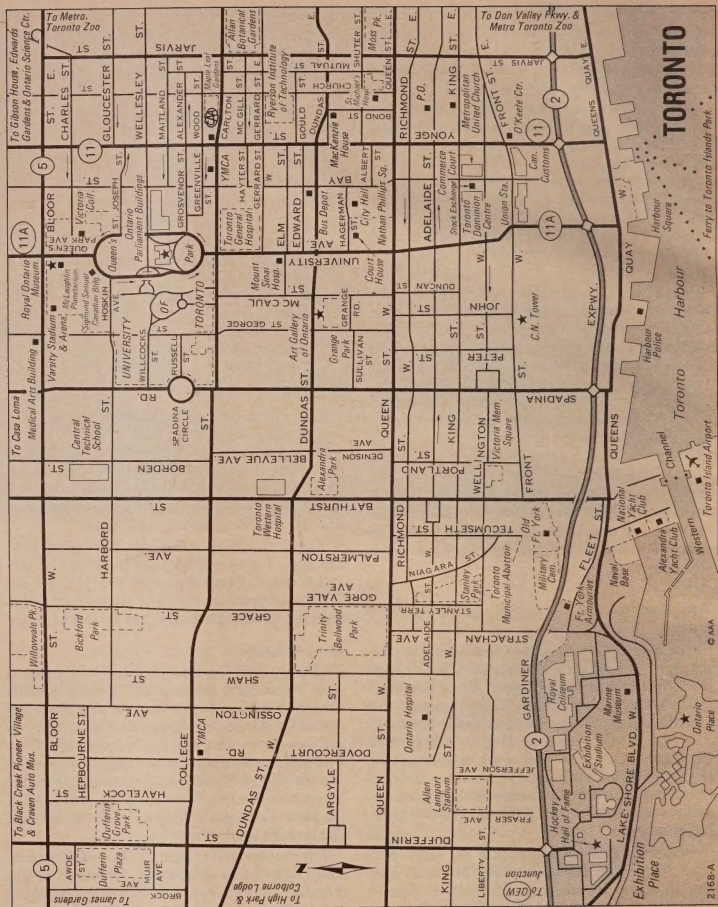

Parking

On-street parking in downtown Toronto is virtually nonexistent. Where permitted, on-street parking is strictly controlled and limited to three hours or less. Rates in the numerous parking lots and garages vary from 50c to 75c per hour and from $2 to $4 per day.

Rental Cars

There are numerous auto rental agencies, both international and local. The major agencies in

TORONTO (Continued)

Toronto are: Avis (622-0770), Budget (486-6542), Dollar (494-8844), Hertz (245-2211) and Tilden (925-4551). Consult the telephone directory for other agencies.

Public Transportation

Public transportation in Toronto has come a long way since the first horse-drawn conveyance appeared in 1849. The city's subway system opened in 1954 with 7.25 kilometers of track. Now covering 60 kilometers, the system combines attractive, clean facilities with fast service. It has been estimated that Toronto's rapid rail system can move 80,000 persons an hour into and out of the downtown area.

The north-south subway runs extend from Union Station on the south to as far north as Wilson Ave. on the University-Spadina line, and to Finch on the Yonge line. On the Bloor-Danforth line, east-west cars travel from Warden Ave. on the east to Islington Ave. on the west. Though additional lines operate during rush hours, these should not be counted upon for sightseeing excursions. For a transit map and schedule, stop in at the Ontario Motor League. Or, call Metro Transit System, 484-4544, for information and schedules; 924-2136 for lost and found.

Complementing the subway is a network of buses, trolley buses and streetcars. Bus routes connect with all subway stations and serve the entire metropolitan area. Fares 60c (six tokens $3), children under 13, 20c (six tickets $1). Transfers valid between subway and bus lines are free. Exact fare is required for surface vehicles.

Taxis

Toronto taxicabs operate on the meter system. Fare is 80c minimum, 80c for each additional mile and $2 for each 15 minutes of waiting time. Standard tip is 10 percent. Major cab companies are: Diamond (366-6868), Metro (363-5611) and Yellow Cabs (363-4141).

Being Informed

Newspapers

Metropolitan Toronto has three daily papers, the morning Globe and Mail, the Sun and the evening Star. Key to Toronto lists current events, dining and shopping information and is available free at hotels and motels.

Radio and TV

Major networks and many independent stations operate on both AM and FM radio. TV stations include channels 6, 9, 11, 22 and 79.

Being Prepared

Climate and Clothing

Toronto's climate ranges from -8 to -1 degrees C. in January and an average of 16 to 27 degrees in July. Other months range between these extremes; October generally sees the first cool, nippy days of winter, which usually abate in May. Though snowfall is abundant throughout the winter, Toronto seldom experiences the paralyzing blizzards common to cities on the south shore of Lake Ontario. For an up-to-the-minute weather report, call 676-3066; or call the Ontario Motor League, 861-4411.

Visitors should remember that Toronto is a sophisticated, modern city whose residents dress in stylish clothing. For women, smart suits, dresses and separates are in order for daytime, cocktail dresses and light wraps for summer evenings. Men's wardrobes should include lightweight suits, slacks and sport coats for warm weather wear. Pack light woolens and a warm coat for spring and fall, and warm woolens, heavy coats, boots and gloves for the brisk winter days.

Emergencies

Should an emergency arise, it is usually best to call the operator or police and let them direct help to you. In an emergency, call 361-1111 or simply dial zero.

For CAA emergency road service, call 966-3000.

Thanksgiving

When mentioned in this book, Thanksgiving refers to the Canadian holiday on the second Monday in October.

TORONTO (Continued)

As are all eastern Canadians, Torontonians are wild about hockey. The Toronto Maple Leafs, adored by practically every citizen over five, play before capacity crowds in Maple Leaf Gardens, Carlton and Church Sts. Though seats have been sold out for many years, standing room tickets are sometimes available.

The Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League share Exhibition Place Stadium with the Toronto Blue Jays of the American Baseball League (April through October). The Toronto Blizzard of the North American Soccer League play at Exhibition Place on Sunday nights April through June and Wednesday nights in July and August. For ticket information, call 364-3231 (Argonauts), 595-0077 (Blue Jays), or 766-1103 (Blizzard).

Thoroughbred racing is presented at Woodbine and at Greenwood Track; harness racing at Mohawk Raceway. Woodbine, 24 kilometers northwest on Rexdale Rd., is one of the largest tracks in North America, covering 312 hectares. Greenwood, built in 1874, is reached by Gardiner Expressway and Lake Shore Blvd. E. or by the Queen St. E. streetcar. Mohawk Raceway, accessible via Hwy. 401, is in Campbellville.

Where to Dine

The cosmopolitan nature of Toronto is reflected in the wide range of cuisine available, covering an exciting array of ethnic specialties. Dining atmosphere ranges from English pub and German rathskeller to walnut beams and red plush. In Toronto, you can be served roast duck on a sword, sip coffee with whipped cream in the mellowed luster of a Viennese restaurant or eat your way through a Scandinavian smorgasbord. A favorite of Torontonians, however, is barbecue, whether it be chicken, beef or spareribs.

If you're ready for a bite to eat at noon, you might try Stop 33 on the 33rd floor of the Sutton Place Hotel; this cocktail lounge not only has drinks and a buffet lunch, but a spectacular view of the city, as well. Harbour Castle Hilton Hotel has a revolving restaurant atop its 37-story tower. For theatergoers, O'Keefe Centre has dining from 6 p.m. until curtain time.

For light refreshment, there are coffee houses and espresso shops in Yorkville. On Bathurst St., between Hwy. 401 and Eglinton Ave., are found the establishments which serve the finest in Kosher cuisine, including Middle Eastern specialties and Kosher pizza. The Ports, 1145 Yonge St., offers atmosphere and food for nearly every taste, with Northgate Bar and Baking Company; Ollie Trout's Pasta; the Uptown Dine and Dance, with stand-up bars and entertainment; One Potatoe, Two, a cozy old-fashioned room; and Eli Green's Cake Walk March and Two-Step, a spacious room with garden and lounge areas.

Ed's Warehouse, adjacent to the Royal Alexandra Theatre at King St. W. at Simcoe, is a kooky collection of antiques, bric-a-brac and Gay Nineties waiters in striped blazers and straw boaters. Old chamber pots hold plants, hundreds of Tiffany lamps light old tables, an old car sits among assorted furnishings and the cashier sits in an old open elevator cage. Ed's serves only steaks and roast beef.

Reservations, always a good idea, are a must on Friday and Saturday nights in the finer restaurants, especially those with entertainment.

Note: Mention of the above establishments is for information only and does not constitute CAA/AAA endorsement.

Nightlife

Toronto's nightlife offers an exciting variety of entertainment for nearly everyone over 18. There are lavish nightclubs, supperclubs, discotheques and sophisticated lounges. The best known supperclubs are the Blackknight Room in the Royal York Hotel, Cafe de l'Auberge in Inn on the Park, the Cafe of the Redwoods in the Sheraton Center and the Fifty-Fourth in the Toronto-Dominion Centre. For folk music there are the Groaning Board and Nervous Breakdown; for jazz, there are George's Bourbon Street, Yellow-fingers and the Ship of Fools.

If you like atmosphere, try Pompeii Court in the Waldorf-Astoria, which has dining and dancing in a Roman Empire setting. Valhalla Inn's Nordic Lounge is a scale model of a Viking ship. Hungarian Village's Blue Danube Room features a lively gypsy band while the Old Mill offers candlelight, wine and music in a country setting.

For livelier entertainment there are topless lounges and discotheques with upbeat music and psychedelic light shows. Popular discotheques include Dinkle's, Maxwell's Plum and Hotspurs.

Note: Mention of the above establishments is for information only and does not constitute CAA/AAA endorsement.

Theater and Concerts

O'Keefe Centre for the performing arts, at the heart of Toronto's rich cultural life, serves the National Ballet and Canadian Opera Company. Here are staged dramas, musicals, symphony, musical revues and a variety of special performances. Massey Hall, at Shuter and Victoria, is home of the Toronto Symphony and Mendelssohn Choir.

Special concerts and shows are presented in Maple Leaf Gardens, Carlton and Church Sts., and in Convocation Hall, University of Toronto. Summer band concerts are presented in several city parks and Exhibition Place band shell.

Numerous theaters stage local and touring theatrical productions. Those with a full winter season include the Young People's Theatre, Adelaide Court, Tarragon, Hart House, Phoenix Theatre, Playhouse Theatre, the Royal Alexandra, St. Lawrence Centre, Bayview and TWP Theatre. Many have a summer schedule. Consult Key or area newspapers for current offerings.

Toronto is a major Canadian center for radio and television production. For free tickets to Canadian Broadcasting Company shows, call CBC Audience relations at (416) 925-3311, extension 4835. Call between 9 and 5, Monday through Friday.

Especially for Children

Toronto has streetcars, skyscrapers, zoos, animal farms, a restored village, a castle and an island park in the harbor—all the ingredients needed to make a child's visit enjoyable.

The city has two zoos, the Metro Zoo in Scarborough and a small one in High Park. Black Creek Pioneer Village, in northwest Toronto, portrays farm and village life in the 19th century. Riverdale Farm, in Riverdale Park in East Toronto, is a 19th-century farm complete with horses, pigs, cows and ducks. Historic Fort York, in Exhibition Place, re-creates the days of the 18th century. For a view of a medieval-style castle take the children to Casa Loma, a baroque jumble of towers, turrets and battlements.

Toronto Islands Parks, in the harbor opposite downtown Toronto, can easily provide a full day's entertainment. The first thrill is in getting there—by ferry from downtown Toronto. Once in the park, youngsters will find a variety of child-size amusements.

For more sedate entertainment, the Toronto Symphony presents children's concerts periodically in Massey Hall, Shuter and Victoria. The Royal Ontario Museum offers occasional art and craft classes, films, games and puppet shows.

The larger hotels and motels have babysitter services. Consult the Yellow Pages for additional agencies.

Where to Shop

Toronto has a sizeable downtown shopping district, extending from Yonge St. to University Ave. and from King St. north to College St. Simpson's and Eaton Centre, the city's largest department stores, are on Yonge St., between Queen and Dundas Sts.

The concourse of Toronto-Dominion Bank building, King and Bay Sts., shelters a wealth of small shops, as does Commerce Court across the street. Other downtown stores include antique galleries, fabric shops, gold and silversmith shops, pipe makers and a variety of other specialty shops.

The Bloor-Yorkville area, on Bloor St. W. between Yonge and Avenue Rd., is Toronto's edition of New York's Fifth Avenue. Lining the street are elegant clothing stores, furriers, jewelers, antique shops handling estate silver and fine furniture, gold and silver shops and an import toy mart. At Bloor and Avenue Rd. is The Colonnade, harboring more than 60 distinctive shops and boutiques. The Manulife Centre is at Bloor and Bay.

Throughout the suburban area are many fine shopping malls with branches of the large, downtown stores. Most noteworthy are the Yorkdale Shopping Centre, on Dufferin north of Lawrence; Square One, Hwy. 10 and Burnhamthorpe Rd.; Sherway Gardens, Hwy. 427 and Queen Elizabeth Hwy.; Scarborough Town Centre at 300 Borough Dr.; and Fairview Mall, Don Mills Rd. and Sheppard Ave. E.

Special Events

The dynamic nature of life in Toronto is evident in the spectrum of events here. The year begins with the International Boat Show and the Canada Farm Show in January, and in March there are the Dog Show (Canadian Sportsmen's Show) and Quarterama Quarterhorse Show. June is the month for Caravan, where Toronto's many cultures are celebrated with an array of gourmet food, continental entertainment and handicrafts. The Queen's Plate, Canada's leading Thoroughbred race, is also run in June.

In August there is the Carabana-Toronto Islands Caribbean Festival, followed by the Canadian Open Tennis Championships. The month and the summer are rounded off with the Canadian National Exhibition, one of the world's oldest and largest, featuring exhibits, entertainment and an air show.

WASAGA BEACH (F-3) pop. 4,985

★ MUSEUM OF THE UPPER LAKES, on Nancy Island, reached by footbridge from Mosley St. entrance, is the site of the sinking of the H.M.S. Nancy by an American flotilla during the War of 1812. An electronic theater recounts the final naval encounters of the war between Canada and the United States. Displays include ship models representing three centuries of vessels that sailed the Great Lakes. Daily 10-6, Victoria Day-Labour Day. Free. Parking $2.

WASAGA WILDLIFE PARK, Zoo Park Rd. and River Rd. E., contains wild animals and birds from all parts of the world in natural settings.

Daily 9-sundown, June 1-Aug. 31; 9-5, rest of year. Adults $2.50, students and children 75c.

WAWA (C-6) pop. 5,000, alt. 366 m

Wawa, meaning "wild goose" in Ojibway, was so named because of the geese that rested on Wawa Lake during migration. A statue of a Canada goose guards the entrance to the town. The information center provides directions for the Old Gold Mines Scenic Route.

HIGH FALLS, 1.5 km s. of jct. Hwys. 17 and 101, then 3.25 km w., is a scenic waterfall on the Maggie River. The falls, 46 meters wide and 22 meters high, are especially beautiful in winter.

WELLAND (J-3)

The 43.5-kilometer-long Welland Canal, crossing the Niagara Peninsula about 13 kilometers west of Niagara Falls, links Lakes Erie and Ontario and provides passage for cargo ships. Eight locks create a lift on 100 meters; the Twin Flight Locks and a single lock carry ships to the level of Lake Erie at Thorold. Lock 8 at Port Colborne is one of the longest (421 m) in the world. The lock system can accommodate vessels up to 244 meters long. Concrete tubes 7 meters in diameter carry the Welland River under the ship canal in downtown Welland.

The By-Pass Channel, 13.25 kilometers long, routes shipping through Welland's east side. The East Main Street and Townline Tunnels carry vehicular and rail traffic under the channel.

Tourists driving via Queen Elizabeth Way from Buffalo to Toronto can view the Twin Flight Locks by taking the Thorold Stone Road west exit to Thorold tunnel; from tunnel take Pine St. exit and follow signs. There is parking at all of the locks and an information facility at Lock 3.

WINDSOR (G-1) pop. 196,526, alt. 177 m

Windsor Raceway, 9.75 kilometers southwest on Hwy. 18, offers harness racing Tues.-Sat. at 7:45 p.m., Jan. 5-June 30; also Sun. at 7 p.m., Oct. 21-June 30. Fort Malden National Historic Park (see description) is about 29 kilometers south.

THE ART GALLERY OF WINDSOR, 445 Riverside Dr. W., features Canadian art, including Indian-Eskimo carvings in the Inuit gallery. Tues.-Sat. 10-5, Sun. 1-5; also Wed. 10-10 p.m. Free.

HIRAM WALKER HISTORICAL MUSEUM, 254 Pitt St. W., also known as the François Bâby (BAH-bee) House, is said to be the oldest (1812) surviving brick building along the Detroit River. It was Gen. William Hull's headquarters during the War of 1812. Featured are pioneer objects, Indian material, firearms, tools and agricultural implements, furniture and maps. Tues.-Sat. 9-5, Sun. 2-5; closed Mon., holidays, Easter weekend and the week before Dec. 25. There is no charge for admission.

WOODSTOCK (I-1) pop. 26,779, alt. 289 m

Settled in 1798, Woodstock, on the Thames River, is a manufacturing community. The Oxford Museum, at city Square, and City Hall were designed after the town hall in Woodstock, England. The bell tower on Dundas St. served as a jail during the Mackenzie Rebellion.

ABOUT ACCOMMODATIONS

AAA/CAA Field Representatives cover the length and breadth of the North American Continent. These efficient, highly trained personnel are constantly on the move, carefully and systematically searching the highways for accommodations and restaurants which meet AAA's requirements for recommendation to our more than 20 million members. From Alaska to Panama, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, our Field Representatives have been there ahead of you to obtain personally the information that will assist us in making your trip more pleasant.

For every establishment selected to be listed in the TourBook, many others were inspected and found to be lacking in some important consideration. We believe, in the best interests of our members, that our standards are important. We will not lower them simply to achieve a greater volume of listings.

What the CAA/AAA Mean

Once a lodging accommodation or restaurant meets AAA or CAA requirements for recommendation, it becomes eligible for our Official Appointment service. This permits display of the well-known AAA/CAA emblem and its use in advertising. Most approved establishments desire this recognition, for which a modest annual fee is charged. The  preceding a listing appearing in boldface type identifies the establishment as a CAA Official Appointment which has expressed a particular interest in serving AAA/CAA members. Follow the AAA/CAA emblem for assurance in selecting accommodations.

Accommodations Listings

Whether you seek a hotel or motel, a dude ranch or a quiet country inn—AAA/CAA accommodations listings supply comprehensive information about facilities, rates and services offered.

Establishments are listed under the nearest appropriate city or community. The postal code appears in parentheses after the town name, unless the community has more than one postal code number. In this case, the postal code follows the address in individual listings. Lodging accommodations are grouped alphabetically under zone headings; restaurants follow in the same sequence.

IN CANADA . . .

AAA-affiliated motor clubs form the Canadian Automobile Association, with headquarters at 150 Gloucester St., Ottawa, Ontario K2P 0A6. CAA clubs provide the same services for AAA members as do the AAA clubs in the United States. Establishments displaying the Official Appointment sign shown above have met the rigid inspection requirements of the two associations.

AAA/CAA ACCOMMODATIONS CLASSIFICATION AND RATING systems are designed to assist you in selecting the establishment which best suits your needs.

The classification of each establishment delineates its physical design and type of operation from among the wide variety of accommodations as categorized below:

Motel— Usually one or two stories. Food service, if any, consists of a limited facility or a snackbar. Often has some recreational facilities such as a swimming pool and playground. Ample convenient parking, usually at the door.

Motor Inn— Usually larger than a motel with two or more stories and offers recreational facilities, more extensive food service and usually beverage service. Ample parking.

Hotel— A multistory building most often located in or near the downtown business district, but also may be situated in a resort area. More extensive services usually include the following: coffeeshop, dining room, lounge, room service, convenience shops, valet, laundry, banquet and meeting facilities. Typically caters to public transportation travelers; parking is usually limited and/or off premises.

Motor Hotel— Similar to a hotel in services provided, but often has recreational facilities such as swimming pool, gameroom, health club and sauna. Caters to motorists and has ample parking on premises.

Cottages— Individual buildings, usually containing one rental unit equipped for housekeeping. May have separate living room and bedrooms; occasionally have more than one rental unit per building as in "duplex cottages". Parking usually located at each unit.

Lodge— Typically a country inn or lodge (vacation, ski, fishing, etc.) of two or more stories with all facilities in one building. Usually has food and beverage service. Adequate on premises parking.

Complex— A combination of two or more of the above types, most commonly located in a resort area.

Ranch— May be any of the above, but features outdoor, western-type recreational facilities.

In some cases, a sub-classification is also used to further describe a particular style of operation:

Resort— May apply to any one of the basic types. Has a vacation atmosphere and often is far removed from metropolitan areas. Offers extensive recreational facilities on the premises; may cater to specific interests such as golf, tennis, fishing, etc. Rates may include meals under American or Modified American plans.

Apartment— Applies where at least 50 percent of rental units are equipped for housekeeping and is usually located in a vacation destination area. Units typically provide a fully equipped kitchen and generally have a living room and one or more bedrooms, although they also may be studio-type rooms with kitchen equipment in an alcove that can be closed off from living/sleeping areas. May require minimum stay and/or offer lower rates for longer stays.

The rating assigned to each establishment reflects its overall quality compared to others of the same classification; for example, a motel cannot be compared to a hotel. One or more diamonds indicate that the establishment meets or exceeds basic AAA/CAA requirements for that classification, as illustrated below:

◆—Meets AAA/CAA basic requirements for recommendation.

◆◆—Exceeds AAA/CAA minimum requirements in some physical and/or operating categories.

◆◆◆—Significantly exceeds AAA/CAA requirements in many physical and operational categories.

◆◆◆◆—Exceptional; significantly exceeds AAA/CAA requirements in most physical and operational categories. Offers luxurious accommodations, as well as extra amenities. The management and staff, the housekeeping and maintenance rank well above the average.

◆◆◆◆◆—Renowned; awarded only to those exceptional properties which are widely recognized for marked superiority of guest facilities, services and overall atmosphere.

RATES are listed for one person (1P), two persons in a room equipped with one bed (2P/1B) and for two persons in a room equipped with two beds (2P/2B). The charges for extra persons (XP) in a room are also identified. See example below.

Many establishments maintain the same rates all year. However, those located in regions which are primarily either summer or winter resort areas usually have higher rates during the main season and lower rates during the off season.

When only one rate line is shown, it represents either rates in effect all year or the in-season (highest) rates and includes the dates these rates apply. In such cases rates are lower usually for the remaining period during which the establishment is open. If off-season rates are significantly reduced during specified periods the lower rates and their effective dates are shown.

Rates for two in a room with two beds include beds of various sizes—twin, double, queen, etc. All rates are for typical guestrooms and do not cover special units such as bridal and executive suites. Rates for one-bedroom housekeeping units or apartments are included either in the rate line or as an additional charge in the listing. Rates are not listed for units having more than one bedroom unless the majority of the units have two or more bedrooms.

All rates for lodging accommodations are European Plan (without meals), unless marked [AP] American Plan (three meals), [MAP] Modified American Plan (two meals), [BP] Breakfast Plan (full breakfast) or [CP] Continental Plan (breakfast pastry and beverage). State, city or other local taxes, as well as occasional minor service charges, are not included. Weekly rates usually do not include daily linen or maid service.

EXTRA PERSON rates are indicated by XP and include only the standard room equipment; they do not include cots, rollaways and baby beds for which additional charges may be made. Extra person rates are shown in the following ways:

Charge for each extra person: XP 2 ($2.00)

Range for extra persons: XP 2- 4 ($2.00-$4.00)

FAMILY PLAN is indicated by the letter F following the extra person rate (XP). This means that the extra person charge for children sharing the room with adults is at least reduced; at some establishments, there is no charge. Most have definite age limits for Family Plans and will charge for cots and/or cribs.

MAJOR CREDIT CARDS honored by lodging establishments and restaurants are indicated in individual listings by the symbols shown below. Credit card designations are limited to five for any one establishment.

WHEELCHAIR TRAVELER ACCOMMODATIONS are indicated by the International Symbol of Access  preceding the telephone number in listings for those lodging establishments that have at least one unit which meets the requirements for providing facilities for wheelchair travelers. The criteria used for designating these establishments were adapted from the American Standards Association's publication Making Buildings and Facilities Accessible To, and Usable By, the Physically Handicapped. Dining facilities at accommodations so designated also meet the criteria. In view of the limited amount of rooms available for the wheelchair traveler, reservations are advised. While every effort has been made to verify that all the required facilities are present at the establishments whose TourBook listings carry this symbol, members who travel in wheelchairs are urged to report any major difficulties encountered with architectural barriers at these operations to Travel Resources, National Travel Department, American Automobile Association.

OTHER INFORMATION—Each listing also includes the location of the establishment, its mailing address and telephone number, as well as a brief description of its features, facilities, policies and services. See Terms Used in Listings.

Rate Guarantee

The rate information which appears in the TourBooks is updated prior to publication. However, since the TourBooks are issued annually, there is a possibility that changes will occur between editions. Nevertheless, lodging establishments whose listings in the current TourBook contain the statement "Rates Guaranteed" guarantee that AAA/CAA members will not be charged more than the maximum rates quoted in the book for the type of room occupied, provided they are not attending conventions or traveling as members of groups. Also, AAA/CAA can honor only the guarantee stipulated in the TourBooks; discounts to which members may be entitled through affiliation with other organizations are excluded. When making reservations or when registering, you must identify yourself as an AAA/CAA member and present your valid membership card to provide proof to the establishment that you are eligible for the guarantee. Establishments whose listings state "Rates Subject To Change" do not offer this guarantee.

If, at a "Rates Guaranteed" establishment, you should be charged more than the maximum listed in the book for a standard guestroom, question the additional charge. If the management refuses to adhere to the listed rate, pay for the accommodations and submit your receipt to AAA or CAA within 30 days, along with complete documentation which must include dates of stay; rates paid; itemized paid receipts; number of persons in your party, including the ages of any children; number of the room you occupied; number of beds in the room; extra equipment used, such as cots or rollaways. A refund of the amount paid in excess of the stated maximum will be made when our investigation indicates that unjustified overcharging has occurred. And remember: you must show your membership card when registering at an establishment that lists "Rates Guaranteed". (The rate guarantee does not apply during major special events. See More about Rates.)

More about Rates

SPECIAL EVENTS during which maximum rates for accommodations may be exceeded include widely known festivals, fall foliage periods, exhibitions, race meets, athletic events, major college functions and holiday periods. During these times establishments also may impose special deposit and length-of-stay requirements. Obviously, these practices are beyond our control. In such situations, you should have a definite understanding in advance concerning the required length of stay and rate to be paid. If possible, obtain a written confirmation.

ECONOMY TRAVEL—AAA/CAA-approved accommodations include a variety of places offering a range of rates. Members interested in economy travel will find a good selection that charge moderate rates. Further savings usually can be realized by traveling during the off season.

Reservations

It is always wise to make reservations. This is particularly true in resort areas, at places where special events are being held, or during peak travel seasons in any region. Your AAA/CAA club or any affiliated club along your route can help with the necessary arrangements.

GAS and OIL in CANADA

... are sold in metric units
at most service stations.

When purchasing gas and oil, remember: 1 U.S. gallon equals 3.79 liters and 1 U.S. quart equals .95 liters

If you prefer to make your own reservations, remember that lodgings may not demand a deposit on reservations, but a reservation is more likely to be held if a deposit accompanies the request. Resorts invariably require a payment. As a general rule, a reservation without a deposit will be released to other guests if it is not claimed by 6 p.m., unless the establishment agrees in advance to a later arrival time.

In requesting reservations, always mention your AAA or CAA membership, specify the number of persons in your party, the ages of any children, type of accommodations desired, date and estimated hour of arrival, length of stay and the rate desired. Remember that your reservation request does not guarantee that you will receive the type of room desired, at the price specified, unless the reservation has been confirmed.

If you find that you are unable to keep your reservations, contact the establishment immediately so the space can be released to another party recording the time of the contact and the name of the person with whom you cancelled. Usually, there is no difficulty in obtaining refunds for deposits on reservations made at lodgings catering to overnight guests if cancellation is given 48 hours before your scheduled arrival; listings indicate if a greater length of time is required.

When a deposit is involved, you should have a definite understanding as to the length of time required for cancellation notice in order to obtain a refund of your deposit. Most resorts have specific refund policies varying from as little as 24 hours to 30 or more days. The guest who fails to cancel by the prescribed time has little recourse if a refund is refused. However, the return of a deposit is an AAA/CAA requirement if an establishment receives notice of cancellation within the specified period.

If an establishment has provided written confirmation of reservations for a particular type of accommodations, and if upon arrival you find that the room is not as specified in the confirmation, you should be given the option of accepting alternate accommodations or of finding suitable lodging elsewhere. Should you choose to go elsewhere and a deposit refund is refused or resisted, we suggest that you discontinue your efforts to resolve the problem at that time. Rather, report your dissatisfaction to the management and submit the matter to AAA/CAA within 30 days, along with complete documentation. To investigate the situation, we must have originals or copies of the following: your reservation request, the establishment's written confirmation, your canceled check or receipt and your reasons for refusing the accommodations.

Finding a place to eat

Mealtime, when you're traveling, offers a chance to rest, move around and to nourish the body. More than this, it is also an opportunity to extend the scope of your trip by sampling some of the area's special or unique cuisine.

We strive to locate the consistently good food operations. In metropolitan areas where many restaurants may be above average, we select for listing those which are known for the superiority of their food, service and atmosphere. In smaller communities and rural areas, restaurants considered to be the best in the vicinity may be listed. Because of their wide distribution and generally similar menus, outlets for the many familiar "fast food" chains are not included.

Additional good dining facilities open to the public and operated in connection with a listed lodging establishment are preceded by a • at the end of its description. Those considered to be outstanding are given a separate listing, as described above. Dinner prices quoted are approximate.

TERMS USED IN LISTINGS

CURRENCY . . . The rates quoted in Canadian listings are in Canadian dollars. Private establishments are under no obligation to accept, convert or pay a premium on currency of other countries. Therefore, it is to your financial advantage to use Canadian currency when traveling in Canada. The only means of securing the official prevailing rate of exchange on U.S. currency is to change your money at a bank or purchase travelers checks in Canadian funds.

IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

A U.S. motorist planning to travel in Canada should always carry evidence of financial responsibility. The Non-Resident Inter-Province Motor Vehicle Liability Card (yellow card), which is usually obtainable from one's insurance company, is accepted as such evidence in all provinces and territories. British Columbia, Manitoba and the Northwest Territories require evidence of financial responsibility; other provinces demand it only in case of accident. The penalties for not producing such evidence vary by province and can result in complicated, costly and time-consuming problems for the visitor.

Once, Muskoka Sands was just a well-loved summer resort on Lake Muskoka.

Today, it's that and a whole lot more. It's a winter resort, too, with indoor pool, ski trails, and downhill skiing. It's a sports centre, with tennis, golf, swimming. It's a lively night spot, with first class dining and entertainment. It's a fully equipped conference centre. And it's all new... new comfort, new facilities, new high standards of service.

You'll find a relaxed atmosphere in beautiful surroundings at the new Muskoka Sands Inn. Just two hours' drive from Toronto. Give us a call.

IN CANADA, AAA-affiliated motor clubs form the Canadian Automobile Association, with headquarters at 150 Gloucester St., Ottawa, Ontario K2P 0A6. CAA clubs provide the same services for AAA members as do the AAA clubs in the United States. Establishments displaying the Official Appointment sign shown above have met in all respects the rigid inspection requirements of the two associations.

Down-Home Barbecued Ribs Ye Olde Barn Style

Here's a real down-home eating place famous for barbecued ribs (50,000 pounds served last year). Ribs are just one of the many delicious specialties on the daily menus. Ye Olde Barn is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner, and offers everything from eggs, pancakes, sandwiches and hamburgers to country fried chicken, steaks, shrimp. The fresh salads are a delight and desserts scrumptious.

As you would expect, de'cor is "a little bit country". Old beams, weathered barnwood, red brick, antiques and artifacts create a dining atmosphere reminiscent of the Niagara area's farming heritage. Hospitality is as warm as the atmosphere. Coffee mugs are 'bot-tomless' and food portions generous.

The Dining Room is fully licensed.

Only one hotel in downtown Toronto gives you the lake and the city.

Toronto Harbour Castle Hilton is a hotel of uncompromising luxury. From its location on the shores of Lake Ontario, it faces the downtown business, shopping and entertainment centres.

A free shuttlebus service throughout the area every 15 minutes makes getting there wonderfully convenient.

Every luxurious oversized room looks out over the lake and Toronto's Island Park. Children sharing the room with their parents do so without charge. And for your added convenience, in-room movies and 24-hour room service are available.

Relax in the resort atmosphere of our heated pool, whirlpool, saunas, squash courts and heated outdoor jogging track. Or enjoy the excitement of downtown Toronto in our eight restaurants and lounges. They're some of the finest in Toronto.

You'll find all this in only one hotel. Toronto Harbour Castle Hilton.

Tonight, tie on our bib.

We're Toronto's party restaurant where you eat with your fingers. No knives, forks or plates and that's half the fun at Lord Stanley's whether you are two, four, ten or more.

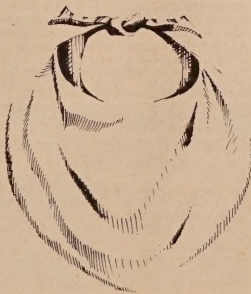

The other half is the food. Our famous feast platter heaped with succulent chicken, meaty spareribs, kabobs, onion rings, breaded mushrooms, corn on the cob, potatoes, grapes and nuts. Soup, bread and a beverage are also included, with or without wine.

You'll sing along with our strolling minstrel, wear a big red bib and have the most fun you've ever had eating.

CONVERSION TABLE

MILES TO / MILES PER HOUR (MPH) TO KILOMETERS / KILOMETERS PER HOUR (km/h)

(1 STATUTE MILE EQUALS 1.60935 KILOMETERS)

Example: How many kilometers are equivalent to 55 miles?
 Read down to 50 miles in the left column, then right to the 5th column for 88.5 kilometers.
 The same reading converts MPH to km/h.

Air pressure in automobile tires is expressed in kilopascals. Multiply pound-force per square inch (psi) by 6.89 to find kilopascals (kPa).

24 psi = 165 kPa	28 psi = 193 kPa
26 psi = 179 kPa	30 psi = 207 kPa

OTHER EQUIVALENTS

24-hour clock: Morning hours are the same as ours; but from 1:00 p.m. to midnight the hours are stated as 1300 to 2400. (3:00 p.m. = 1500 hours)

Imperial Measure: One-fifth, or 20 percent, larger than the corresponding U.S. measure. Five gallons, Imperial measure, are equal to six gallons, U.S. measure.
